TRAIN SERVICE
CURTAILED BY
COAL DISPUTEGOVERNMENT LABOR
TROUBLE SHOOTER
TALKS TO LEWIS

Washington, March 18 (AP)—The government today ordered a 25 per cent reduction in coal-burning passenger train service because of the coal mine shutdown.

The office of defense transportation order is effective at midnight next Sunday, March 21.

It was issued under the wartime powers which the ODT still retains.

The agency said the step was necessary because "railroad coal stocks today are considerably lower than they have been on previous occasions when stoppages in coal production have interfered with railroad operations."

The bureau of mines reported two days ago that coal stocks generally were at a dangerously low level.

At the time the ODT acted, the government was making other moves to end the work stoppage which already had forced the steel industry to cut operations.

Locomotives Laid Up

Federal conciliation chief Cyrus S. Ching met with Ezra Van Horn, spokesman for the mine operators, and arranged to talk later with John L. Lewis, chief of the United Mine Workers.

The ODT order requires railroads to reduce coal-burning passenger train service 25 percent under the operations as of March 1, 1948.

It prohibits the carriers from substituting diesel-electric or other equipment for coal burning locomotives, which will be laid up as a result of the order.

All special passenger train service requiring coal will be prohibited, and circus and carnival trains using coal will be banned for the duration of the order.

ODT authorized the railroads to cancel out passenger reservations or take any other action necessary to carry out the terms of its order.

Ching told reporters the talks with Van Horn and Lewis were exploratory.

"Anything that interferes in a material way with production of coal at this time is serious," he told reporters.

Nearly 350,000 Idle

The four-day-old walkout has idled nearly 350,000 soft coal miners and in Pennsylvania the steel companies kept close tabs on the idling coal supplies.

A pension for miners is the point in dispute between Lewis and the operators. Both Lewis and Van Horn are trustees of a welfare fund set up under the contract signed last July and financed by a ten-cent-a-ton coal royalty. An estimated $30,000,000 already has been collected.

Lewis told his United Mine Workers last Friday that the operators had "dishonored" the contract by refusing to meet his pension demands. He said Van Horn had stalled negotiations for eight months.

Van Horn said in a counter charge that Lewis had "deliberately" provoked the walkout to force the pension issue. Van Horn said further that the UMW chief wanted to make the owners violate the Taft-Hartley act's limits on welfare funds.

Soviets To Fight
UN Investigation
Of Czech Holdup

BY LARRY HAUCK

Lake Success, March 18 (AP)—Russia seemed grimly determined today to fight on against a United Nations inquiry into the Communist grab of Czechoslovakia.

A decisive east-west clash over Soviet expansion in Europe is in prospect.

The U. N. Security Council voted yesterday, over strenuous Soviet objections, to hear all that can be turned up on the Czechoslovak crisis.

TAX REDUCTION
BLOC CONFIDENT

Easy Passage Predicted
For Bill Providing
$1,800,000,000 Cut

Washington, March 18 (AP)—Confident Senate Republicans rolled out their $1,800,000,000 income tax-cutting bill for debate today.

They predicted easy passage. They said President Truman's plea for greater military power to protect western Europe from Russia will have little or no effect on the tax reduction vote.

On that forecast they were joined by Senator George, (GA-3), ranking Democratic member of the Senate Finance committee.

George indicated that he expects the $1,800,000,000 amendment to be defeated. He said he intends to vote for the Finance committee's $4,800,000,000 measure.

"I think the committee bill will pass by a very good vote," George said, "and I don't believe the President's foreign policy program will have any great effect on the outcome."

Two Flint Couples
Held For Robbery
Of Tennessee Bank

Nashville, Tenn., March 18 (AP)—Two Flint, Mich., men and their women companions were held today on robbery charges in connection with a $7,000 holdup of a bank at nearby Goodlettsville Tuesday.

District Attorney General J. Carlton loser said armed robbery warrants had been issued against Andrew James Motes, 28, and Charles E. Craig, 24.

Geraldine Morrisett, 25, of Detroit, and 17-year-old Betty Bonkowski of Flint were charged with being accessories after the fact.

The quartet was arrested yesterday in a tourist cabin where police found five pistols and more than $7,000 in cash. Officers also located a bullet-riddled automobile believed to have been used as the getaway car after two bandits staged the bank holdup.

Loser said the four also were being questioned in connection with a $2,000 holdup kidnapping last Feb. 21 near Flint.

Italy Builds Up
Security Forces
With 30,000 Men

Rome, March 18 (AP)—Vice-Premier Rinaldo Ossola said today the Italian government is recruiting about 30,000 men from those who already have done military service to augment public security forces.

Pacciardi, head of the Cabinet Committee on Public Order, said this in clarification of remarks made to the Associated Press two days ago that public security forces had been augmented by 30,000 men recruited from the army.

The new men being taken into the public security forces, Pacciardi explained, are being recruited through a "voluntary competition" among veterans of the armed forces.

King Mihai Delays
Visit to Detroit

Detroit, March 18 (AP)—A proposed visit to Detroit by former King Michael of Romania and his mother Queen Helen was postponed today.

Michael's personal secretary informed a local Romanian-American committee that the former King would not be able to keep his tentative March 28 date here because of plans to visit Washington.

STATE SOLONS
NOT SHOWING
PLIABLE MOODLAWMAKERS DALLY
WITH PROGRAM OF GOVERNOR

Lansing, March 18 (AP)—Legislators were making it plain today they are not in the pliable mood of last November when they adopted Governor Sigler's sweeping corrections department revision in three days.

House leaders were having difficulty mustering a comfortable majority to remove from the ballot the proposal to repeal the sales tax diversion amendment.

Senators were rallying around a move to block Sigler's reported plan to remove Garrett Heyns as state prison director.

A move was afoot to cut the administration's proposed building program in half.

A substitute for Sigler's plan to let legislators set their own salaries was threatened.

Only 69 Present

The lawmakers indicated they would recess until early next week when the House Ways and Means committee expects to have some budget bills on the floor for debate.

Speaker Victor A. Knox (R-Sault Ste. Marie), emerging from a secret caucus of House Republicans said only 69 of the 96 attended. Though a majority of those present approved the governor's plan to remove the sales tax diversion repeal from the ballot, House leaders felt this was not safe enough to permit appearance of the measure on the floor.

Knox said the opponents feared that taking repeal off the ballot would be tacit approval of the diversion.

"They seemed to think," he said, "that if the state gets into serious financial distress in a few years, the voters will complain that the legislature had put repeal on the ballot and then taken it off, losing their chance to save the state's financial condition."

Another caucus on the subject was planned for next week when leaders will attempt to muster more votes.

Heyns Backers Aroused

Sigler's program might, it appeared, become snarled in the Senate with his rumored plan to dismiss Heyns.

Senator Perry W. Greene (R-Grand Rapids) said he would try to get Sigler's permission to introduce legislation which would put Heyns under civil service protection. He claimed sufficient strength to pass such a measure.

Western Michigan senators reported a groundswell of opposition from their constituents against any attack on Heyns.

There were hints some effort might be made in the Senate to deny confirmation to Joseph W. Sanford, the new corrections commissioner, unless Sigler promised to leave Heyns alone. Heyns was demoted when Sanford was appointed after Sigler's prison investigation.

Senators groping for a way of balancing Michigan's 1948-49 budget, meanwhile, pondered a plan to throw the cost of direct relief and afflicted children care back on the townships.

Sponsors contended that this method, plus a 50 per cent reduction in the proposed state building program, would save $9,000,000 to $12,000,000 a year.

Dr. Altland resigned and presumably will return to his former post as head of the health department's bureau of local health services.

Dr. Altland was named to the post last year when Sigler fired Dr. William De Kleine as commissioner. The Senate, however, failed to confirm Dr. Altland.

Dr. Cummings has been in the health department for 22 years. He was trained for the laboratory headship by the late Dr. C. C. Young, founder of the laboratory, who selected Dr. Cummings to be his successor.

Sigler said he had promised Dr. Cummings that if the national leadership of the laboratories appeared to suffer under the new arrangement he could return to the laboratory and give up the commission.

Lighthouses Looted

Shanghai, March 18 (AP)—Chinese pirate raids on lonely lighthouses today were reported endangering shipping in China seas.

Shanghai authorities said pirates had robbed five lighthouses keepers of fuel used for beacons, and also their food supplies.

They expressed fear that shipwrecks would result if the raids continue.

CRASH AT GLADSTONE—Pulpwood was scattered all over the intersection of M-35 and US-41 at the Buckeye hill in Gladstone when a Delta county road commission truck, with water tank trailer, was struck by a truck, driven by Al Maskart of Gladstone, Wednesday morning. Pulpwood also landed atop the county truck.

Traffic on the highways was detoured for over an hour while the roadway was being cleared. It took 35 minutes to jack the trucks apart to release Maskart from the telescoped cab. Maskart was taken to St. Francis hospital, suffering from a dislocated hip and body bruises.

Strike Shrinks Meat
Supply; Prices Go Up

Chicago, March 18 (AP)—Meat supplies dwindled and price boosts in the retail markets appeared in prospect today as President Truman's new board of inquiry pushed its investigation of the nationwide meat strike.

The government's fact-finding board, after a preliminary meeting yesterday, called a joint session of major packers and CIO union representatives today.

Nathan P. Feinsinger, one of the three college professors named to the board and appointed chairman, said they will attempt to expedite the report on the wage dispute to Mr. Truman. The report on the strike by 100,000 CIO meat packing workers is due April 1.

Meanwhile, as the strike against about 140 packing plants across the country entered its third day, shipment of animals to markets were about one-third as many as a week ago.

Prices in the wholesale markets continued to rise as the work stoppage cut in half the nation's meat production.

In Chicago, the center of the packing industry and where more than 20,000 workers are on strike, retail meat prices have increased from one to five cents a pound since last weekend.

Earlier, the supply of meat in the nation's warehouses was reported sufficient to meet the country's average need for three weeks. There are about 150,000 AFL and Independent members who are not on strike. They accepted a wage increase of nine cents an hour.

However, the members of the CIO United Packing House Workers of America, struck in a dispute over demands for a wage increase of 29 cents an hour.

Dr. Cummings Named
State Commissioner
By Gov. Sigler

Lansing, March 18 (AP)—Dr. C. D. Cummings, nationally-known head of Michigan's health department laboratories, was promoted by Governor Sigler Wednesday to be state health commissioner.

Thus, Sigler solved his long controversy with the Senate over the appointment of Dr. J. K. Altland as the commissioner.

Sigler, naming Dr. Cummings acting commissioner, said he would make the appointment permanent if the legislature will raise the commissioner's salary from $9,000 to $12,000 a year.

Dr. Altland resigned and presumably will return to his former post as head of the health department's bureau of local health services.

Dr. Altland was named to the post last year when Sigler fired Dr. William De Kleine as commissioner. The Senate, however, failed to confirm Dr. Altland.

CHICAGO DANCE HALL CAVES IN

One Woman Killed, Over
100 Injured At Big
St. Patrick's Party

Chicago, March 18 (AP)—One woman was killed and more than 100 persons were injured last night when a large section of a third-floor dance hall collapsed under the weight of about 500 persons attending a St. Patrick's Day celebration.

Twelve of the 92 persons who were treated at six hospitals were reported in from serious to critical condition. Several other persons were given first aid treatment at the scene.

The dance and party was in the top floor of a three-story brick building near the busy intersection of Clark street and Belmont avenue. It was sponsored by the Connaught Men's Social Club.

The dead woman, who was removed from under the wreckage three hours after the floor caved in, was identified as Mrs. Ann Hunt, 35, mother of four children. Two of her children who were with her at the party and dance were not injured.

Hundreds of the merry-makers were walking off the floor at the end of a dance number when a large section of the floor collapsed. Scores were hurled headlong to the second floor. As the floor settled, parts of the false roof caved in.

Women and children screamed as they were pitched down a slide which was formed by a large section in the middle of the floor. Groups of men formed chains and helped scores of persons to climb up the slanting floor. Others tied ropes to chairs and threw them down for those not injured to climb back to the uncollapsed section of the third floor.

More than 200 policemen, 30 ambulances and six patrol wagons were rushed to the scene.

Peninsula Skipped
By Spring Weather

Chicago, March 18 (AP)—Temperatures headed for spring-like readings over most sections of the eastern half of the country today.

Cooler temperatures were reported over the western states, but the lowest early morning mark was 3 above zero at Sault Ste. Marie, Mich.

Light snow fell from eastern North Dakota eastward through northern Minnesota. Scattered showers were reported along the Pacific coast and snow fell in the Rocky Mountain states. Rain or snow was forecast for the south and central sections of the north central states tonight.

Blast In Yugoslav
Coal Pit Kills 171

Belgrade, Yugoslavia, March 18 (AP)—A coal mine explosion at Racha, in Yugoslav territory on the Adriatic peninsula, killed 171 persons Sunday, the Yugoslav news agency Tanjug reports.

Tanjug's dispatch, released last night, said the news had just been received here. There were no details.

(In Trieste, not far from Racha, the National Council of Liberation for Istria said 300 persons died in the blast. The council, an Italian organization, said the disaster was caused by careless handling of explosives at the Arsa mines near Pozza Littorio, in territory which was Italian before the war.)

CHANCES FAIR
OF UMT PLANPARTY LABELS LOST
IN SHUFFLE OVER
TRUMAN PROGRAM

Washington, March 18 (AP)—Congress split down the middle today on President Truman's plans for shoring up the nation's military strength with universal training and revival of the draft.

Party labels were lost in the shuffle as leaders divided over the two measures Mr. Truman said are needed to flex the muscles of a country that has become "the principal protector of the free world" against Communism.

The upshot seemed to be a trend toward giving the president one—but not both—of the manpower-raising laws. Universal military training looked slightly the better bet although the cards are stacked against UMT in the House right now.

European Aid Approved

As a third step to halt the aggressive march of "one nation"—Russia—Mr. Truman also called for quick and final approval of the $5,300,000,000 Marshall plan for European recovery.

350,000 MEN WANTED

Washington, March 18 (AP)—Secretary of Defense Forrestal indicated today that the armed forces want to add more than 350,000 men to their strength, but did not say how many more. He said a draft is the only way to get them.

Forrestal was before the Senate Armed Services Committee, supporting President Truman's plea for a revival of the draft and for universal military training.

The Senate already has passed its bill. And, within four hours of the president's address to Congress, the House foreign affairs committee stamped its okay on a similar program.

The chief executive told a New York St. Patrick's Day banquet audience last night that the big issue in the world now is "tyranny versus freedom."

"Our faith and our strength," he said, "must be made unmistakably clear to the world."

Bluntly, Mr. Truman accused Russia of trying to sabotage the peace and of seeking to bring all of Europe under Communist sway.

The still-free nations that remain, the president said, this country must support with its full strength—"military, economic and moral."

And he said—as he had earlier in the day to a joint session of Congress—that this nation must be strong to keep the peace. He warned against "the insidious propaganda that peace can be obtained solely by wanting peace."

Growers To Discuss Spud Price Support In Escanaba Tuesday

Problems in potato production and marketing, including the potato price support program which expires at the end of this year, will be discussed by Delta county potato growers at a meeting to be held at the court house in Escanaba Tuesday night at 7:30 p. m.

D. L. Clannahan, Marquette, extension potato specialist in the Upper Peninsula, was in Escanaba today and said he would return for the Tuesday meeting. The discussion will include the U. S. Department of Agriculture's program for 1948, and cultural practices in potato production. The meeting is called by J. L. Heiman, county agricultural agent. All interested growers are invited to attend.

Because of the persistent criticism of the potato price support program, the USDA has prepared a "tougher" program for 1948. It is tougher because it provides fewer loopholes for producers, and removes the crop insurance aspect that potato programs have presented in other years.

Participation in the program will close on Dec. 31, 1948. Therefore producers have until that deadline to sign with the government to obtain benefits until completion of the marketing of the 1948 crop.

Under provisions of the Steagall amendment, the government is required to support the prices of farm commodities at not less than 90 per cent parity for two years after the first of the year following the end of hostilities. Congress has not acted on any continuing price support program after this year.

Potato production locally, and in the state and nation is following the same trend—higher production despite reduced acreage, according to figures from Clannahan. Nationally the 1947 crop was over 400,000,000 bushels on the smallest acreage since 1882.

The acreage was reduced last year but will remain at 2,352,400 acres allotted to potatoes in 1948. Further reduction was held dangerous in the event of a bad growing year, with the possibility of a near "potato famine".

The trend of less acreage but higher yield is shown in Delta county, Clannahan pointed out. In 1927, Delta county had 2,840 acres in potatoes and produced 64,500 bushels, or an average yield of 75 bushels an acre. In 1946 this county had 2,200 acres in potatoes and the production was 434,400 bushels, or an average of 197 bushels an acre.

Representatives of all civic and service clubs, fraternal organizations and labor units in Escanaba have been invited to attend the session, which is sponsored by the American Legion's community national defense committee, headed by Tom Beaton, Jr.

The purpose of the meeting is to acquaint the organization representatives and the community with the program of the national defense committee and to complete plans for Escanaba's observance of Army Day, Tuesday, April 6.

As part of the community's observance of Army Day, Tuesday, April 6, Escanaba merchants are requested to decorate their display windows with a military or national defense theme on that day.

Prefacing Mr. LaFave's remarks, all sub-committee chairmen will make brief reports of the makeup and program of their respective sub-committees.

Army day will be observed in Escanaba and throughout the nation on April 6.

Escanaba plans call for a public meeting in the William W. Oliver auditorium at the Escanaba junior high school at 8 o'clock Tuesday evening, April 6, when residents will view a one hour showing of the newest military motion pictures available through the Escanaba office of the Army recruiting service and hear an address by an outstanding speaker.

Detailed plans for the Army day program will be announced later.

A. Beauchamp, 72, Life Long Resident Of Fayette, Dies

Amab Beauchamp, 72, a lifelong resident of Fayette, died yesterday afternoon at his home after a four year illness.

He was born in Fayette, March 24, 1865, and with the exception of a few years in Cheboygan, spent all his life in that community. He was a woodsman by trade.

He was a member of St. Peter's Catholic church.

He is survived by two sisters, Mrs. Mary Duffney, Cheboygan; and Mrs. Elizabeth Taylor, address unknown; one brother, Fred, whose whereabouts also is unknown; one nephew, George Duffney, Cheboygan; and the following nieces: Mrs. Joseph Lineski, Cheboygan; Mrs. Elizabeth Dinman, Flint; Mrs. Harold Hansen, Muskegon; Mrs. Bernadette Harrington, Cheboygan; Mrs. Ed Kotarski, Mrs. Joseph Kotarski, Flint; Mrs. Stanley Kotarski, Flint; Mrs. Oscar Bray, Mrs. Arthur Monette and Mrs. Emma Taylor, Munising.

The body will be removed from the Alto funeral home to the family home Friday at 2 p. m. Services will be held at 9 a. m. Saturday in St. Peter's church and burial will be made in Sac Bay cemetery.

Friend of Bugsy Held For Perjury

Los Angeles, March 18 (AP)—Alvin Karpis, friend of the slain gambler Bugsy Siegel, faces a new charge of perjury.

A federal grand jury yesterday returned an indictment accusing Karpis of making a false statement to U. S. immigration officers about his employment. Karpis previously had been charged with making false claims of American citizenship.

The government contends that Siegel, a native of Russia, entered the United States illegally from Canada in 1922.

Siegel was seated beside Siegel when the underworld figure was shot in a Beverly Hills mansion last June.

FHS FORENSICS TO BEGIN TODAY

Name School Winners In Declamation, Extempore

School contests to determine first and second place winners in the Michigan high school forensic association program began at Escanaba senior high school this morning. Winners in these contests, to be continued through Friday, will be eligible to compete in a district tournament to be held in Escanaba sometime in April.

In oratorical declamation before the student body this morning, Janis Bergman placed first with her delivery of "Strangers in Our Gates." Lorian Sundelius was awarded second place with his presentation of "Education for Hate." James Moran won first place and Charles Benzinger second in extemporaneous speaking.

Original oratory contests are being held this afternoon and dramatic declamation will be held Friday morning.

Elimination contests were held Wednesday night, to select five candidates from the group competing in oratorical declamation and four from the dramatic declamation division.

Competing in oratorical declamation were the following: Ben Nelson—American Way of Life; Robert Myrsten—Spirit of Gettysburg; Jane Holderman—Beachheads of the Future; Marilyn Anderson—Freedom of the People; Janis Bergman—Stranger in Our Gates; Beverly Feldstein—Toussaint L'Overture—Lorian Sundelius—Education for Hate.

Of this group Robert Myrsten, Jane Holderman, Janis Bergman and Lorian Sundelius won eligibility for this morning's contest in which Miss Bergman and Miss Sundelius placed first and second.

Scout Executive Ed Kot gave a short talk on the effectiveness of an indoor council fire for all Scout meetings and demonstrated the simple construction of the effective council fire made by him in use at this meeting. ## Dr. Harold Groos Attending Detroit Medical Meeting

Dr. Harold Q. Groos, of Escanaba, is attending a three-day scientific institute being held this week in Detroit. Approximately 2,000 doctors from Michigan, Ohio, Indiana, Wisconsin and Ontario are attending this second annual postgraduate clinical institute.

Forty-nine eminent Michigan doctors will demonstrate and lecture on the newest developments in medicine, surgery and related fields. The meeting is particularly designed to provide latest information to general and rural practitioners of medicine.

The institute is presented under the sponsorship of Michigan State Medical society in cooperation with Wayne County Medical society; the University of Michigan Medical school, Wayne University college of medicine, University of Michigan department of postgraduate medicine and the Michigan Foundation for Medical and Health education.

Scout Executives Meet At Nahma

Nahma, Mich.—Approximately 50 Scouters and Cubbers attended the Red Buck Council District meeting and roundtable held at the Civic Center in Nahma last Thursday.

Dinner was served at 7:30 p. m. by A. H. Giroux with the Girl Scouts of Nahma acting as waitress. The regular business meeting followed the dinner and numerous items of routine business were disposed of and special reports given by various leaders and committee chairmen. Cub Scouts of Pack 422 under the direction of Cub Harold Hebert gave a short band concert and Troop 421 under the direction of Scoutmaster A. D. Hescott gave a knot-tying demonstration.

During the roundtable discussions, various phases of Scouting and Cubbing were discussed and ideas introduced. Reports were made by the heads of the various committees.

Scout Executive Ed Kot gave a short talk on the effectiveness of an indoor council fire for all Scout meetings and demonstrated the simple construction of the effective council fire made by him in use at this meeting. The effectiveness of a council fire was further indelibly impressed on all present as the lights were extinguished and the meeting closed with the singing of taps, and the Scoutmaster's Benediction.

POLICE CHECK TRASH DUMPING

Prosecutions Planned If Identification Is Established

Police Chief M. F. Ettenhofer warned this morning that local police officers are checking all garbage, rubbish, trash, etc. dumped illegally along county and state roads and that in all cases where identification can be established prosecutions will follow.

The police chief reported that many complaints have been received of garbage being dumped along highways in the city. Officers are examining the contents of the garbage to determine the source of the material.

Considerable quantities of trash and garbage have been found near the athletic field and along the old state road leading to the city dumping grounds.

ONLY $12,041 TAXES UNPAID

Delinquent Rolls Turned Over To County Treasurer

Only $12,041 of the total tax levy of more than $375,000 for real and personal property in Escanaba for the year 1947 has been uncollected to date, the city clerk's office has revealed. The roll of delinquent school and county taxes has been turned over to the county treasurer's office for collection. The percentage of tax collection on 1947 levies is 97.7 percent for the city assessment of $166,158.38 and 96.1 percent of the county and school levies in the city of $209,231.37. This compares with 97.9 percent and 96.4 percent, respectively, in 1946.

The delinquent assessments follow:

City taxes—$3,286.57 on real estate; $523.18 personal; $3,809.75 total.

County taxes—$3,015.07 real estate; $445.30 personal; $3,460.37 total.

LECTURE HERE THIS EVENING

Prof Fifield To Open U. Of Michigan Series

The first of a series of lectures on "The United States in World Affairs" by members of the political science department of the University of Michigan will be given tonight at the junior high school music room.

In order to accommodate those who also plan to attend the spring style show, the lecture this evening by Prof. Russell H. Fifield on "The United States and Russia in the World of Power Politics" will begin at 7 p. m., instead of 7:30 p. m., as previously announced.

Charles Folio, supervisor of the University of Michigan Extension Service, reports that much interest is being shown in the course. Fifty enrolled at Ishpeming, and 76 at Iron Mountain at the first meeting.

Prof. Fifield served as an American foreign officer in China and Forosa for two years, returning to this country last fall, when he accepted his appointment to the University faculty. Prior to his assignment in the Orient, Prof. Fifield spent a year in Washington in the Department of State.

Second lecture, to be given the week of March 29, will be "Dangers in the Far East" by Dr. Manfred J. Vernon, Dr. Vernon, who holds the degree, doctor of jurisprudence, has studied in the Universities of Cologne, Berlin, and The Hague. He served with the U. S. Army in the Pacific from 1941 to 1945 and taught in the Army college at Manila. Since his return, he has also attended Stanford University.

This series of lectures has been planned to present factual information necessary for an understanding of international affairs. Daily developments in major areas of the world headline the significance of America's position in world affairs. The average citizen, however, has inadequate information for interpreting the effect that these developments may have on the people, politics, economy, and security of the United States. An attempt will be made in this series to analyze and interpret some of the more fundamental aspects of world events as they affect the nation.

Prof. Lawrence Preuss, authority on international affairs and a former member of the Department of State, will lecture on the question, "Can the Marshall Plan Succeed?" Other topics are "Unity and Chaos in Western Europe" by Roger S. Abbott; "The Success or Failure of the American Occupation Policy in Japan" by Robert S. Ward, and "What Policy Toward China?" by N. Marbury Eftimence.

FIRE PROTECTION

For years, as far back as the writer can remember, every time we had a serious fire, and which by the way has been comparatively often, people as usual stand around muttering among themselves, that, "We ought to have some kind of fire fighting equipment in Garfield Township to protect us from such things as this."

Well here is the set up people of Garfield township, and I don't mean just you, and you, I mean every man, woman and child in the township. Because why? Well simply because fire threatens every one of us, and so far the people of Garfield township have been mighty lucky. Some day, and who can say when we may have a tragedy in loss of lives as well as property loss.

Now here is the picture people of Garfield township. Are we going to forget these mutterings, and do something substantial, and practical to fight the next fire we have in this township? Or are we still going to keep on muttering among ourselves.

This is strictly up to the voters who is coordinator for the series. Enrollment for the series may be made at the opening session of the series in each center.

Council Will Act On Contract With Pioneer Aviation

The city council will complete covenants of the contract to be entered into with Pioneer Aviation company at the regular meeting of the council tonight at the city hall.

Other subjects up for discussion at the meeting include the amounts of insurance to be carried on the city's industrial buildings, first reading of the new electrical ordinance, report of the chairman of the housing commission on conditions at the veterans housing project and application of Trygve Olsen for S. Members of the Cornell Lions club and their sons enjoyed a father-and-sons meeting Tuesday night in the Cornell town hall, with King Lion Oral Thompson presiding.

The Rev. Karl J. Hammar of Escanaba talked on the responsibility of fathers in setting a right example for their sons in their early life. He pointed out that delinquency in minors is caused by involvements in the home, and said that a good home life was necessary to healthy morals among youth.

The Lions members and their sons also enjoyed a program of sound moving pictures presented by Tony Wahl and Leonard Schwendner. The movie subjects were varied and designed to appeal to the boys as well as adults.

State To Plant 300,000 Trout In U. P. This Year

The Michigan department of conservation will plant approximately 300,000 legal-size brook, brown and rainbow trout in the Upper Peninsula this year, according to Stanley Shust, regional fisheries supervisor. Last year 237,000 trout were planted in U. P. waters.

Planting this season will depend in part on the department's ability to obtain the necessary equipment, Shust pointed out. New motor vehicles are on order and extra planting unit tanks will soon be built to handle the fish, along with present equipment.

This year a better distribution is planned on all legal-size trout, Shust added. Men and equipment from other divisions of the department—together with crews from the fish division—will be assigned to scatter the fish by pail, live crate and boat.

All legal trout planted in 1948 will be marked by removal of the adipose fin so that trout fishermen will be able to tell how many hatchery-reared trout make up his creel. Close watch should be kept for trout that are lacking their dorsal fins, as all trout planted in 1947 were so marked, Shust advised.

Cost of producing legal-size trout is still high, Shust continued. Great quantities of livers (beef and horse) are used with melts, hearts, ocean herring and dry meals to make up a balanced diet for the fish in the state rearing ponds. Due to a greater water supply and better winter water temperature, some stations have greater numbers of trout on hand than others. To insure a good distribution over the entire area, trout will be transferred from some of the larger units to any area lacking in capacity.

Something new in trout stream fertilization will be tried out this season by the Institute of Fisheries Research, who hope to increase the yield of trout by use of commercial fertilizer, Shust said.

District biologists will again be stationed in each fisheries district for the summer months by the Institute of Fisheries research. In addition to their other duties, the biologists will again seek out streams where runs of the lamprey eel occur.

The conservation department maintains a fish hatchery at Watersmeet, at Thompson, and at Marquette. There are fish stations at Cooks Run in Gogebic county, and on the Fox River in Schoolcraft county.

Due to shortages of raw petroleum the Japanese during World War II made fuels and lubricants from pine root oil, vegetable oil, and sweet potato alcohol.

Time Issue Again?

IT IS DISAPPOINTING to note that three of the candidates for the Escanaba city council have included in their platform a pledge to support an advisory county vote on a fast time schedule for winter months. We had hoped that this issue with which the community has struggled so frequently for so many years had finally been settled once and for all.

We are now completing the first winter of fast time in Delta county since the war years, when the entire nation moved ahead one hour for purposes of war production efficiency. Many of the opponents of fast time for winter months learned that their worries were unfounded. On the whole it has worked out very satisfactory, certainly much more satisfactory than some persons had feared. We are gaining a full hour of extra daylight in the evening and at this season of the year, the morning dawn is early enough for all but the very earliest of risers.

If this were a county election instead of a municipal election, the injection of the fast time issue into the election campaign might have been justified. But this is an election in the city of Escanaba to pick three members of the local city council. The voters of Escanaba have already proved by referendum conducted within the city that they predominately favor fast time the year around for Escanaba. That should settle the matter insofar as the council for the city of Escanaba is concerned.

We certainly hope that the three candidates who have included the fast time issue in their platform will reconsider and that those who have backed these candidates will implore their nominees to reconsider their stand on the subject of fast time.

Dairy Lobby Wins

THE POWERFUL dairy lobby is still in the driver's seat in the national legislature when any proposal affecting their product is up for consideration. That was evidenced Tuesday when they House agricultural committee voted to shelve for this session all legislation to repeal federal taxes on oleomargarine.

The treasury department had testified that it favored elimination of oleomargarine taxes and the administration leaders also recommended repeal of the discriminatory legislation. Consumer committees strongly favored abolition of the taxes. Housewives all over the country were hopeful that Congress would look out for their interests instead of the interests of the dairy lobby.

But it was all to no avail. The agriculture committee, heavily flavored with proponents of the dairymen, voted 16 to 10 to shelve all legislation affecting federal taxes on oleomargarine. Practically everyone wanted a change in this unfair legislation except the dairy lobby—but the dairy lobby won the fight.

A move is now afoot to bring the bill to the floor of the House through the use of a discharge petition but the outlook for success is dull. Discharge petitions rarely succeed in attaining the required 218 signatures.

The forces of public opinion eventually will force a change in the discriminatory laws now affecting the production and sale of margarine. Even the dairy lobby recognizes this. The only question is how long it will take for the lawmakers to catch up with public opinion on this subject.

Changing The Constitution

GOV. SIGLER's recommendation to the state legislature that the proposal to repeal the sales tax diversion amendment be stricken from the November ballot cannot be construed to indicate any change in the governor's opposition to the amendment. Gov. Sigler himself has made it clear on that point.

Sigler is convinced that any effort to repeal the amendment at this time is headed for certain failure because of the combined opposition of the schools, cities and townships who now are reaping a financial bonanza from the diversion amendment.

The catastrophe to state finances as a result of the amendment will not become complete until sales tax receipts begin to fall. The governor believes that the public will then become aware of the havoc created by the tax diversion amendment and will be favorably disposed to support a proposal to repeal the amendment.

In the meantime, Gov. Sigler favors a change in the requirements for adoption of a constitutional amendment. He has suggested that the constitution be amended so that only a majority of those voting on a question be required for adoption. At present a majority vote of all who vote in an election is required for adoption of a constitutional amendment. This proposed change is important because many voters entirely ignore the ballot for constitutional amendments.

Undoubtedly the governor's proposal would make it easier to get repeal of the tax diversion amendment, which is the motive behind the suggestion. It also would make it easier for pressure groups to get approval of other amendment proposals that may not be within the public interest. For that reason the recommendation does not appear to be a sound one. It should not be made an easy matter to gain revision of the state constitution lest the voters be plagued in every election with a blanket-sized ballot of amendment proposals.

If that happened the voters would ignore these ballots even more than they do now, thus increasing the chances of poor legislation being foisted upon the people of the state.

Is Wallace Embarrassed?

IF THE ONLY REASON for Premier Stalin's postwar policy is fear of American "imperialism," it is unlikely that he would have okayed the Communist coup in Czechoslovakia. If he had any regard for the American third party that would guarantee peace by giving him free rein, he probably would not have embarrassed that third party by this aggressive act.

The third party has every reason to be embarrassed. For President Benes gave the Communists as free a rein as was possible and still preserve a semblance of parliamentary democracy. And the Russian-directed Communists showed their appreciation by seizing complete control of the Czech government.

There was a bit of window-dressing to justify the Communists' action. But even they didn't seem to take it very seriously. The Communist-led police searched the National Social party headquarters for several hours on the first day of the uprising and "discovered" documents supposedly revealing a conspiracy of armed revolt against the state.

The Communists' subsequent actions were not what would be used to quell a revolt against the status quo. In the first place, they destroyed the status quo. They did such things as turn the legal owners out of factories and other business places and replaced them with "national managers." This scarcely comes under the head of defense measures.

There seems to have been no bitter opposition to the Communists in Czechoslovakia so long as they operated within the framework of the republic and permitted some democratic freedoms. As President Benes said, "It is clear to me that socialism is a way of life desired by an overwhelming part of our nation." But he added, "I believe that with socialism a certain measure of freedom and unity is possible, and that these are vital principles to all in our national life."

But that did not square with Communist policy. It was not enough to have the biggest popular vote and majority control of the cabinet and parliament. The pattern of terror and tyranny had to be repeated, for communism seems to know no other way. So free Czechoslovakia is no more.

Czechoslovakia did not oppose Russia. She was a neighbor and an ally. She was not militaristic or imperialistic or capitalistic. She did not threaten or demand. Her only sins were independence and freedom. In short, she was about what Henry Wallace and the third party would have this country become as a means of ensuring peace.

Czechoslovakia's fate is a challenge to Mr. Wallace and his theories. Thus far he has parried the challenge by saying, "It is impossible to know what the truth is from the American press." The American press can endure the insult. But the insult is no answer to give the voters whose support Mr. Wallace is seeking.

Take My Word For It

THE WORD ROUTE

The English words rout and route, as we learned yesterday, are different forms of the French noun route. We also learned that in English the word route has two sanctioned pronunciations: rout and route, the latter prevailing among the people as a whole and being universally heard in commercial and railroad usage.

Now why is it that most Americans feel more comfortable in saying "rout" than they do in saying "route"? It is a simple matter of connotation, or, to use a more familiar term, word association.

The connotation or suggestive significance of a word strongly influences its pronunciation, and vice versa. It is so with the pronunciation "rout" for route, for "rout" suggests (1) the root of a plant; (2) to take root in the soil; (3) to root up, as of weeds; (4) to root in the ground, as a hog; (5) a mathematical factor, as the cube root; (6) the primary form or stem of a word; (7) a cause or source, as the root of evil; (8) the root of a tooth; (9) to root or push with the nose or snout; (10) to root for the home team.

On the other hand, the pronunciation "route" for route has but two other associations: (1) to rout or scoop out with a gouge; (2) to put to rout, as in repulsing an enemy.

Now we see that the pronunciation "rout" has stronger and many more associations to disturb us than has the pronunciation "route."

For example, if one should say, "The road 'rooted' us to New York by way

World Events Analyzed

BY MARQUIS CHILDS

Washington.—The little band of dictators who run the House rules committee have been repeatedly denounced for their action in bottling up the universal military training bill. These past masters of obstruction are apparently determined that the House shall not even get a chance to vote on the proposal.

This happens at a time when ominous clouds darken the international sky and when the issue of democracy's workability is to the fore. So the indignation and the concern are understandable.

What is not known is that this same oligarchy is holding back a measure that is in some ways as important as the UMT bill. It is a proposal to close a loophole in the Clayton anti-trust act. Because of that loophole, monopoly concentration has grown bigger and bigger and the opportunity for small business has grown less and less.

CLAYTON ACT CIRCUMVENTED
When the Clayton act was passed in 1914, the method used by big corporations to swallow little corporations was to acquire all the stock of the little fellow. Congress was overwhelmingly in favor of stopping that practice. Therefore this door was shut.

But big business promptly found another way to absorb little business. That was by buying up the assets of the smaller company, a method which had not been specifically banned under the Clayton act. The O'Mahoney-Kefauver bill would close this door, too.

Last year extensive hearing on the bill were held before the House judiciary committee. Big business sent skilled spokesmen to oppose the measure. One of them was Gilbert H. Montague, a New York lawyer, who is said since to have boasted that he has successfully buried the bill.

But a majority of the committee—18 to 9—found in favor of closing the door of monopoly. The committee report was written by vigorous approval by Rep. John Gwynne of Iowa.

Free Enterprise, Not Monopoly
A staunch Republican, Gwynne did not let his partisanship obscure the truth. He believes in the American free-enterprise system and he knows that it cannot be free if it is nine-tenths monopoly. After showing how concentration of industry has grown by leaps and bounds since the end of the war, Gwynne said in conclusion:

"This proposal is in no sense antagonistic to so-called big business. Its contribution to the national welfare, both in peace and war, is recognized by all. Nevertheless, big business too has a tremendous stake in the maintenance of competition—without which capitalism cannot survive. The only alternative to capitalism is some form of statism—destruction alike to both big and small business. The concentration of great economic power in a few corporations necessarily leads to the formation of large nationwide labor units. The developments of the two necessarily lead to big bureaus in the government to deal with them.

"Nor should we forget that 'Man does not live by bread alone.' In the choice between competition and monopoly, between real labor unions and a system of dominating, racketeering overlords, between opportunity for youth to chart its own course as against a mere job for some far-distant master, between many thriving small towns and a few large cities, between local government and bureaucracy, between freedom and dictatorship—between these choices lie many questions involving great moral and spiritual values which cannot safely be ignored."

The Republican majority on the rules committee put the bill and the Gwynne report in a convenient pigeonhole. And there it has stayed ever since.

SEN. O'MAHONEY IGNORED
From time to time, Sen. Joseph O'Mahoney of Wyoming, one of the sponsors of the bill, has tried to prod the oligarchy into action. But his efforts have met with small success. They have been ignored by rules committee Chairman Leo Allen of Illinois and his fellow potentates, who bar the portal that gives access to the floor of the House. And Sen. O'Mahoney's efforts have also been ignored by press and public.

I said that this measure seemed to me to be as important as the UMT bill, which enjoys the same fate. Reasonable military power, whether through universal training or a greatly expanded air force, is essential to national security. That means decision and action, not stalling and mere talk.

But freedom here at home means decision and action, too. If nothing is done, the end will be total monopoly—which is to say, the totalitarian state. Closing the door on monopoly concentration is no cure-all. It is, however, one important step in the direction that the nation must move if freedom at home is to be safeguarded.

of Washington." a grotesque image pops into one's mind. Not so with, "The railroad routed" us.

This, I believe, is the chief reason why the "rout" pronunciation acts as a stop-light of speech.

The certainly "ou" when followed by "t" suggests the sound of "out" to our ears—about, clout, gout, lout, out, pout, rout, scout, about, snout, spout."

So the choice is yours; you may say either "rout" or "route" with equal correctness.

Are you perplexed when using MY or ME in a sentence? Mr. Colby's leaflet, C-16, "Possessive Pronouns," solves your problems.

Good Evening

By Clint Dunathan

WINTER'S ENDING—It is now but two days until the first day of spring, and if that day should dawn cold and bleak as winter, be not unhopetul, for spring is here nonetheless.

The long winter is ending. Already the sun comes up at an earlier hour, warms us during the day with increasing friendliness, and departs lingeringly. In the country the crows stand sentinel in the fields or flap warily across the patchwork of the countryside. The farm dog runs barking, joyful for the bare ground underfoot, and the shouts of the farm boy follow him across the clearing.

Along the bank of the creek the boy finds the snow still deep on the shadowed north bank, but the south bank has been uncovered by the sun. The fretful stream is unzipping down the middle in discarding its winter clothes and in sunny places it is free and is running a comb of grass through its tangled current. The warming earth presages spring, and the shell of last year's seed pod holds the promise of summer's fulfillment.

SHORELINE MAGIC—Along the bay shore the ice is retreating and the rocks and the reeds show black through the winter covering. Overhead the screaming gulls wheel and circle restlessly, weaving figures in a pattern of the season.

Bay ice, like the backbone of winter, will soon be broken. Man will help in this defeat of enemy winter by sending boats through earlier than nature herself would break the ice. And many count the coming of spring more by the arrival of the first boat, than the coming of the first robin.

POTSY PUDDLES—Spring comes to the city in different tempo. There is no careless waiting for snow to go or ice to melt. Hasten with the snow plow and hurry with the pick axe, for there are rains coming and streets must be clear and storm sewers free to receive drainage. But there is small loss in the removal of snow and ice in town, for it is less than beautiful, and of its own accord withdraws dirty and ashamed into the shadow of the buildings.

In school play yards the boys are looking for last year's "potsy" holes and wifiting for them to dry out so they can start the 1948 marble season. Older boys are following younger boys who have pack rat tendencies and a large bag of marbles, intent on wangling them into a game and out of their marbles. And the young chaps will go home "skunked dry" and thrilled at having rubbed fraternal elbows with a boy in the higher grades.

And in the city the voice of the sparrow takes on a more confident note, while the pigeons settle more often to the ground in their search for food. All winter long they have clung to the sunny sides of buildings, roosted near warm chimneys, and found that life was far from beautiful.

SOON TO COME—Although we may not consider the sparrow and the pigeon, the crow and the seagull as harbingers of spring, they should be twice welcome—for they never completely desert us. The more fragile members of the bird clan, who spend their winters in southern warmth, are soon to return. Among the first

INTO THE PAST

Ten Years Ago

Escanaba—Miss Betty Grant has arrived from Seattle, Wash., to visit with her mother, Mrs. R. Grant, and with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. John Grant.

Escanaba—Mrs. Henry Arpke, of Franklin, Wis., has arrived to attend the golden wedding observance of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Fosterling of Danforth.

Ensign—Mr. and Mrs. Henry Van Mill are the parents of a daughter, Patricia Henrietta, born March 14.

Gladstone—Ralph Cornell has returned to Green Bay where he is employed after spending a week here with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Z. P. Cornell.

Twenty Years Ago
Manistique—Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Violet left yesterday for Minneapolis with Mrs. James Mersen, who became seriously ill while visiting here. Mrs. Mersen, mother of Mrs. Violet, will receive treatment from a specialist in Minneapolis.

Gladstone—The condition of Atty. George Springer, of Minneapolis, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. D. Springer of this city, is reported improving, following a successful nose operation.

Nahma—William Birmingham has returned to his home here after being hospitalized in Mayo clinic for the past three months. His condition is reported much improved.

Escanaba—Miss Evelyn Marchand, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Marchand, has returned from Savannah, Ga., and Jacksonville, Fla., where she transacted business for the Baker Trentess company of Chicago.

There will also be the meadowlarks, redwinged blackbirds, bluebirds, killdeer and others whose name we do not know. Among the waterfowl soon to return to us are the swans, geese, and such ducks as mergansers, mallards and golden-eyes. Later there will be others, both water and land birds, to gladden the countryside and provide movement and life on the surface of the lakes and rivers.

SKY CHANGE—Leadens skies of winter have been replaced by the changefulness of spring. Sun succeeds clouds, and snow turns to rain. The atmosphere has a depth and clarity remindful of the summertime, and at night when skies are clear the stars sparkle in larger brilliance. The sky above, as well as the earth below, are characteristic of the season of promise.

SPRING MORNING—The first day of spring may be cold, or it may be warm. The date itself means nothing. But the first day of spring is that morning when there is newfound warmth in the air, and the sun upon arising pokes inquisitive fingers into the fringes of ice around the puddles of water. It is that morning when the birds herald the coming day with happy chirpings, and even the arising worker feels that his job is good and the world is right.

Spring is a season to be enjoyed in Northern Michigan. Delayed though it may be by late-winter storms, its coming is certain and therefore predictable—sometime in March or April—or perhaps in May.

Roving Reporter

By Hal Boyle

Washington, (AP)—Manpower would not be the biggest initial problem of the small American army if a showdown with Soviet Russia flamed into a third World War soon.

"Our biggest shortage isn't in men—it's in equipment," said one veteran officer.

Less than three years ago the United States had the best equipped armies in history in the field in both Europe and the Pacific. Her combat troops were numbered in millions.

Today the army still has some 550,000 men. But less than one fifth of these are in anything approaching real combat condition. The rest are engaged in occupation duties, port work, warehouse guard duty—all the tasks it takes to keep the framework of a peacetime army intact.

No Arms Available
As an emergency striking force the army could throw into immediate ground battle only about two divisions in Europe, one in America and three to four in Asia.

But if war came tomorrow couldn't millions of trained ex-servicemen leap to arms and restore almost overnight America's lost combat strength?

That is the belief of the average civilian, ignorant of the time and immense work needed to build modern ground armies. It is a source of great worry to professional soldiers upon whom the organization of the nation's defense rests.

"Millions of men might leap up," one officer said wryly, "but they wouldn't leap to arms."

The reason? The arms aren't there any more. The tremendous military surpluses of three years ago are gone. The great stockpiles of weapons, supplies and equipment have been sold, broken up or donated to the armies of Greece, Turkey, China and other countries.

No Secret To Russians
Today the vast arsenal of Democracy has in mothball reserve enough leftover equipment to outfit only a comparatively few ground divisions.

"Our big problem again would be—not manpower—but the conversion of our industry to a wartime footing," said a man who helped plan the operations of World War II. He estimated it would take from one to two years to "put us even in as good shape again as we were the day of the Pearl Harbor attack."

This, of course, is no secret to Russian military experts. They know the tremendous power of the American industrial colossus—but they know also the months and perhaps years it takes to gear it up to the point it can pour out decisive floods of weapons of all kinds.

Adolph Hitler knew it, too, gambled anyway—and lost. But the Russians may figure they are in a better comparable position to make the same gamble—and win.

The export program is not jeopardizing the economy of our country. It is merely providing a market for the crops the farmers have raised at the request of the government—Secretary of Agriculture Anderson.

You can't treat labor as a commodity in a free market! Labor is people. It is men and women—fellow citizens—Harold E. Stassen, Republican Presidential candidate.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

BY DREW PEARSON

Washington.—One of the great things about the American people is that they believe in working at democracy. And when the gentlemen in Washington fail to exert leadership, as they're inclined to do these days, more and more plain ordinary patriotic people pick up the democracy ball and run with it.

For instance, the state department long ago was supposed to be telling the Italian people that we are their friends and that when they go to the polls to vote April 18, they shouldn't be afraid to vote against Russian terrorism. However, partly because of decreased funds, the state department has been dragging its feet.

Therefore, a group of Americans suggested to Bob Sherwood, foremost American playwright, that he write a short message "To the People of Italy from the People of America." Sherwood has written such a message, printed below, and now money is being raised by others to drop several million copies, printed in the Italian language, over Milan, Venice, Naples and Rome.

Other Americans who have friends or relatives in Italy can clip the message and mail it direct to Italy.

In other words, more and more people in this country have come to realize that winning the peace is almost more difficult than winning the war.

During the war, the government spends millions dropping information behind enemy lines. It's called "psychological warfare." In peace, psychological warfare is even more important, even though the Congress and the government don't always think so.

"MANIFESTO FOR PEACE"
Here is the "Manifesto for Peace" prepared by Americans who are ahead of their government in trying to make democracy live:

"To the People of Italy from the People of America:

"We, the American people, are proud to reaffirm the strong bonds that have always existed and always must exist between the people of Italy and ourselves.

"These bonds survived through more than twenty years of Fascist dictatorship and through the devastating war that Fascism imposed upon the civilized world. These bonds are again threatened by another form of totalitarian dictatorship.

"The new world, in which we Americans live, and in which the cause of freedom has flourished, was discovered by a great Italian, Christopher Columbus. Both continents of this new world have been largely settled and developed by men and women of Italian birth.

"We look to Rome as the cradle of our civilization, and, for many of us, the eternal citadel of our religious faith.

"We have fought for freedom on our own shores. We have fought for freedom in Europe, in Africa, in Asia. Today, the whole world has seen too much of the savagery and destruction of war and wants to see no more of it. We believe that war can be avoided if the free peoples of the world will keep strong their democratic institutions by resisting all the sinister forces of intimidation which seek to destroy them from within.

"We Americans want the Italian people to know that we are with them wholeheartedly in their struggle to maintain their freedom and their dignity in a world that is again darkened with the threat of oppression and slavery."

THE HOUSING WAR

Senator Charles Tobey of New Hampshire clomped angrily out of a joint congressional housing meeting the other day, leading a wholesale walkout, after his fellow Republican, Senator Joe McCarthy of Wisconsin, got wound up in a filibuster against public housing. It was an incident which everyman looking for a home should know about.

Tobey had the majority for a bill which would provide 15,000,000 homes in ten years. McCarthy, faced with defeat, tried to stall.

Fortright Senator John Sparkman of Alabama had suggested that the committee take up the recommendations of Senator Ralph Flanders, Vermont Republican. These were almost identical to McCarthy's own recommendations, except for two glaring exceptions: Flanders proposed building 500,000 units under a four-year public housing program; also farm housing on a large scale.

McCarthy protested that these issues were too controversial and should be presented in separate bills. Seeing the scales tipped against him, he urged the vote be delayed until Congressman Frank Sundstrom of New Jersey, Congressman Wright Patman of Texas and Senator Harry Cain of Washington were present.

This touched off the fireworks. "It looks," snorted San Diego's Congressman Charles Fletcher, who was elected by the California real-estate lobby, "like some unfair shilly-shallying."

"If there is any shilly-shallying," snapped Sparkman, "we learned it from you at the first meeting. Only this time we have more men to shilly-shally."

McCarthy then threatened to discuss "suggested changes in the staff report"—92 of them altogether—which brought an immediate charge from Senator Tobey of filibustering.

"This is just an obvious attempt," he fumed, "to put off voting today!"

"I want to know," demanded Alabama's Congressman Albert Rains, "if you are a one-man filibuster."

"I intend to talk until Patman and Sundstrom show up," shot back McCarthy. "It won't do you any good to wait for Patman," snapped Rains. "He's on our side."

"We are all adults," soothed McCarthy. "Let's be sensible about this."

U. P. WINTER MEETING HERE

Sports Council To Make Plans For 1948 - 49 Recreation Season

A calendar of events for the 1948-49 season will be adopted and a policy for that season set up by the Upper Peninsula Winter Sports Council at its first post-war institute to be held here Saturday.

Forty-five organizations from all parts of the region have been asked to send delegates to the meeting, which will be opened with registration at 10:30 a. m. in the foyer of the junior high school. All sessions will be conducted in that school.

Officers in charge of arrangements for the institute are the council president, Gordon Heughens, Marquette; vice-presidents, Fred Siebert, Gladstone; and William Carey, Houghton; and executive-secretary, Mrs. G. C. Meyland, Marquette.

"Although 20 organizations joined the council in 1948, there is a potential membership of 50 or more," Heughens said. "It is important that all communities planning to participate in the 1948-49 winter sports program be represented at this meeting as a calendar of events and council policy will be adopted. Bids for location of the "Queen of the North" festival also will be considered Saturday."

Dudley Jewell, executive secretary of the Escanaba Chamber of Commerce, will be in charge of registration. The program for the institute follows:

General session, 11 a. m.—Talks by Gordon Heughens, Marquette, "Get Going Now!"; George E. Bishop, Marquette, "Winterizing the Winter Sports Program"; and Mrs. G. C. Meyland, Marquette, "The Rucksack and the Calendar in 1948".

Luncheon will be served at noon in the Delta hotel, followed by special panel discussions at 1 p. m. in the junior high school. The program follows:

Skating—"Exchanging Skating Talent", Mrs. Walter Wilson, Newberry; "Skating Club Problems", Mrs. Thibert Wagner Bend, Niagara, Wis.; "Speed Skating", George Grenholm, Escanaba recreation director.

Skating—"Ski Areas", Fred Siebert, Gladstone; "Iron Mountain Reports", William Gray, Iron Mountain.

Promotion and Advertising—"Resorts and the Winter", John Garber, Gateway; "Winter Sports Folders", Ironwood Chamber of Commerce; "Winter Sports and the Press", Mrs. Helen M. Klebes, Sault Ste. Marie Evening News; "Letting the Outside World Know", Dr. L. J. Clement, Iron Mountain.

Queens—"The Queen Reports", Nancy Carol Johnson, Newberry. Junior Hockey—Norman E. Kulk, Marquette city recreation director.

"Winter Sports Areas—"College Participation", William Carey, Michigan College of Mining and Technology; Houghton; "Negaunee's New Area", Ed. Stevens, Negaunee recreation director.

Carnivals—"Ice Carnival Promotion", Kenneth Foster, Newberry.

Costumes—Mrs. Harold Groos, Escanaba.

Another general session will be held at 3 p. m., at which time reports of panel discussions will be given and recommendations made for 1949. A new membership roll call will be held.

Civil Rights Law Hard to Enforce, Rep. Potter Thinks

Washington, (AP)—Rep. Potter (R-Mich.) expressed belief that federal civil rights legislation might well be like prohibition—impossible to enforce. The legless war veteran declared Negroes should have equal opportunity for employment, education and voting. But he asked: "What results could we expect from the enactment of civil rights legislation?"

Such laws, Potter added, might cause more lynchings, race riots and hard feelings than are present today.

REVISE STAND ON BEACH SITE

North Shore Of Sand Point Approved By Board

Advised by city officials that it would be impractical to establish a permanent bathing beach along the natural shore of Ludington Park, the city recreation board Tuesday revised its stand on the bathing beach problem and recommended that a permanent beach be created on the north shore of Sand Point, present site of the temporary beach.

The recreation board was informed that problems of water circulation, holes gouged in the sand bottom of the lake near the shoreline by sand sucking operations and similar factors make it virtually impossible to create a satisfactory swimming area along the natural shoreline of Ludington Park beach.

In reversing its stand on the beach problem, the recreation board recommended that a program of beautification be started as soon as possible at Sand Point. It is proposed to construct a lawn, plant trees, install recreational facilities at the beach and construct a suitable bath house.

Pungent herbs include rosemary, sage, and winter savory.

'UNLOADED GUN' KILLS STUDENT

Bullet Fired Through Window Hits Youth 140 Feet Away

Bowling Green, O., March 18 (AP)—An 18-year-old Bowling Green State University premedical student died of a bullet wound early today, apparently the victim of a supposedly empty pistol fired at least 140 feet away.

Wood county prosecutor Floyd A. Collier and police chief Guy Spitzer said the dead youth was Charles Wenzel, Centerburg, O., freshman, who was in his own first-floor dormitory room when a bullet shattered a window, striking him in the head.

The two officials said Jim Singler, 21-year-old former seminary novice from Sandusky, O., was being held without charge pending a coroner's inquest later today.

Collier and Spitzer said Singler admitted firing a Belgian 9 millimeter pistol from his second-story dormitory window, but maintained he thought the weapon was unloaded.

Sexton Who Killed Wife Freed As Sane

Detroit, March 18 (AP)—Sherman Price, 65-year-old church sexton committed last December to the Ionia State hospital for the insane, has been ordered freed by Circuit Judge Thomas J. Maher.

Price was acquitted by reason of insanity in the fatal slaying of his 57-year-old wife, Rose, whose body was found at their home last July.

Housewife Watches Suicide In Park

Grand Rapids (AP)—While a horrified housewife watched from the front porch of her home, a 60-year-old factory worker shot and killed himself Wednesday in Richmond Park, coronor Paul W. Bloom reported. Mrs. John Karp said she saw Charles Gopp take his own life with a double-barreled shotgun.

Three Scandinavian Premiers in Huddle

Stockholm, March 18 (AP)—The premiers of Sweden, Norway and Denmark met today for confidential discussion of world conditions. Well informed sources said the talks "certainly will touch upon all vital topics including the momentous declaration made by President Truman, the Brussels pact, the Marshall Plan, defense policy and neutrality."

Smelt Start Rush Into Boyne River

Boyne City, Mich., March 18 (AP)—The usually reliable smelt, whose spawning movements gave rise to Smeltania, the shanty village on the ice of Lake Charlevoix, started to run in great numbers this week. But it was too late for Smeltania.

After a winter of indifferent success most village shanty owners had given up hope the smelt would start biting at all and had removed their buildings from the ice.

Late Tuesday anglers four miles down the lake between Boyne City and Advance began getting catches by the bucketful. To enter Boyne river, one of the principal spawning streams, the smelt pass directly under the shanty village.

Menominee Plans Smelt Conference

Menominee, Mich.—A conference to discuss conservation practices by dip-netters during the Twin City smelt run will be held in Meissner's hall next Tuesday night between Twin City commercial fishermen and representatives of the Twin City Smelt Carnival committee. Officials of the Michigan and Wisconsin Departments of Conservation and James Goulette of Iron Mountain, state legislative representative, have also been invited to the conference.

The commercial fishermen are hopeful a plan can be worked out to avoid waste of the smelt when the run reaches its peak and it has been suggested that dip-netters invoke a voluntary bag limit. In past years many tons of smelt were left to rot after the market became glutted.

Perkins

Holy Name Meeting
Perkins, Mich.—A large number of Holy Name men from St. Nicholas, Brampton, and Perkins held their regular meeting Sunday night March 11 in the basement hall of St. Joseph's church. ## Fall Kills Infant, 3 Burned to Death In Rural Home Fire Albany, Ore., March 18 (AP)—Three persons burned to death, an infant was fatally injured and two young men critically burned last night when fire destroyed a rural residence east of here.

City police officer Ray Maddy reported the three who burned to death were not immediately identified and that the infant was believed injured when thrown from a second floor bedroom window.

Police said the Wallace L. Dunks family had moved into the house yesterday. Two members of the family—Roy Dunks and Duland Dunks—were taken to the General hospital in critical condition.

The infant's body was found some distance from the charred structure.

Average Tax Rate Cut 6.06 Percent By Michigan Board

Lansing, March 18. (AP)—The state board of assessors today fixed Michigan's 1947 average tax rate at 6.06 per cent lower than the previous year as the result of increases in county equalized values.

The average tax rate is used to levy upon railroad, telephone, telegraph, sleeping car, express, car loaning, stock car, refrigerator car and fast freight companies who pay specific taxes in lieu of other taxes. It also gives an indication of the tax trends for the year.

The average tax rate was determined to be $27,380,471 per $1,000 of valuation, a decrease of $1,767,797 from the previous year. The board said total assessed valuations in the state are $8,476,170,852 (B) in 1947, an increase of $917,535,320 (M) or 12.14 per cent over 1946.

Total county equalized valuations were placed at $9,023,480,782 (B), an increase of $1,062,171,072 (B) or 13.33 per cent. Total tax levies for all local government in 1947 were $247,204,202 (M), an increase of $14,952,162 (M) or 6.45 per cent.

The board said "while actual tax levies have increased on a fairly uniform basis in the majority of counties, increases in county equalized valuations resulting mainly from reassessments or re-equalization in several major counties have materially affected the average rate of levy in those counties with the resultant reduction in the average tax rate for the state."

The 1947 average tax rate compares with the rate for 1943 which was approximately one cent and one half higher than last year.

Handicapped Son, 10, Put In Chickencoop

Traverse City, Mich., March 18 (AP)—A Leelanau county circuit court jury late yesterday convicted Henry and Catherine Dunklow, Lake Leelanau farmers, of extreme cruelty in forcing their 10-year-old handicapped son to live in a chicken coop near their home.

The parents were arrested last Sept. 13 on complaints of neighbors and school authorities. The boy, Donald, has since been cared for by a Traverse City State Police officer.

Sentence was temporarily deferred by the court.

program would eliminate the anticipated $19,700,000 deficit. Townships Wealthy

The state now pays $9,600,000 for direct relief in the counties and $1,400,000 for afflicted children. A 50 per cent cut in the building program would save another $10,000,000.

Sponsors argued that the state took over relief in the depression because the townships had no money. Now, they said, the townships are "rolling in wealth" because of their shares of the sales tax diversion amendment.

The legislature adjourned until Monday night after the Senate received three proposed constitutional amendments and two bills.

One amendment would permit the 15-mill tax limitation to be increased for 20 years by a majority vote. The constitution now permits an increase for five years by a two thirds vote.

Two other amendments introduced would allow the salaries of state officers to be set by law and salaries of the legislature to be set by legislative resolution.

A new school aid bill drafted by a 23-man study committee and a bill increasing the maximum old age assistance grant from $45 to $50 a month also were introduced.

FORESTRY MAN CLUB SPEAKER

George A. Young Tells History Of Service At Club Meet

A history of the U. S. Forest service, its objectives, and the educational background necessary to become associated with the Forest service, was presented to the Women's club Tuesday afternoon by George A. Young, of Escanaba, assistant supervisor of the Upper Michigan National Forests. Mr. Young is a graduate of the forestry school of Michigan State college and prior to going to the upper peninsula headquarters at Escanaba, was assistant regional personnel officer for the North Central region of the U. S. Forest service, with headquarters in Milwaukee.

The speaker defined Forest service, which is a bureau of the department of Agriculture, as the management of federal land properties to provide the greatest amount of good to the greatest number of people. There are 16 national forests in the U. S. A. totalling 175 million acres. The system of national forests was started in 1891, but the department actually had its beginning in 1876. Every national forest is divided into ranger districts, of which there are 65 in this area, comprising five adjacent states. The Hiawatha and Marquette National forests comprise this district, totalling 300,000 and 800,000 acres, respectively.

Mr. Young cited organized fire control and co-operative aid as two of the main objectives of the forest service. He declared that there are still 150 to 200 million acres without organized fire control, located mainly in the southern states. He explained co-operative aid as the help given to small land owners in cutting and planning to best advantage.

The speaker explained the educational procedure necessary to become associated with the department and the application of a forestry education in private enterprise. U. S. Forest rangers are chosen by civil service examination. The life of a ranger is not the romantic story often pictured in the movies, Mr. Young stated. He cited the advantages and disadvantages of being a member of the forestry service as a matter of information for parents whose children may be contemplating this vocation.

Included on the program were three vocal numbrs by Mrs. Harold Cowdrick, who presented, "Going Home," by Anton Dvorak, "Miracle," and "The Lord's Prayer," by Albert May Malotte. Mrs. James Fyvie played the piano accompaniment.

During the business meeting which opened the afternoon, plans were made for a Thrift sale to be held in the near future. Proceeds of the sale will be used toward the expenses of the district meeting of the Michigan Federation of Women's clubs, to be held in Manistique Sept. 14, 15 and 16. Several committee reports were presented, including the drama committee by Mrs. Gordon Hughes, motion pictures, by Mrs. William Sheahan, and the better homes and gardens committee, reported by Mrs. C. E. Moore.

At the close of the meeting tea was served from a table attractively decorated in the conservation theme. Serving as the centerpiece was a miniature fire tower and trees with birch bark holders for the tapers. Hostesses were Mrs. W. G. Wilson, chairman, Mrs. Gordon Hughes, Mrs. William Moreau, Mrs. Elmer Lundstrom, Mrs. E. R. Monroe, Mrs. William Shinar, Mrs. John Hallen, and Mrs. Fred Bernhardt.

Walter G. Wilson, chief ranger of the Manistique Forest station, was present at the meeting.

Lake Erie Shipping Opened At Buffalo; Straits Come Next

Buffalo, New York, (P)—Great Lakes shipping from this port had its earliest start in history Wednesday.

Shortly after the U. S. Coast Guard icebreaker Mackinaw arrived from Cleveland to escort a dozen vessels through Lake Erie's ice, the ore carrier Fred G. Hartwell departed. The earliest previous opening was March 20, 1919.

The Hartwell was followed out of the harbor by the Frontenac, Pontiac, E. L. Ford, W. D. Crawford, Joseph Wood, Peter White, Cadillac and Jay C. Miller.

The B. F. Jones, Thomas Walters and James Laughlin were expected to follow. All will proceed to ice-free ports to await opening of the Straits of Mackinac.

Aboard the Mackinaw to observe the operations were Commodore James A. Hirschfield, commander of the Ninth Coast Guard district; Commander Edwin J. Roland, his chief of staff, and Capt. Patrick J. Healy, fleet skipper for Boland Cornelius Lines.

The Mackinaw was to proceed to the Straits of Mackinac after completing the Buffalo harbor opening. Its skipper is Commander Harold J. Doeblir.

A Coast Guard helicopter flown from Bridgeport, Conn., to participate in the operation arrived this morning after being delayed last night by inclement weather en route. Its pilot is Commander Frank A. Erickson.

A special 25 by 30 foot landing platform was installed on the deck of the icebreaker, to be the helicopter's base during the operation. The helicopter will be used to search for weak spots in the Lake Erie ice.

The Mackinac is one of seven Coast Guard vessels that have been sent out to break through the frozen lakes channels in efforts to speed opening of the navigation season.

However, Coast Guardsmen warned the opening of general shipping "is still sometime off."

Ice breakers are usually sent out a month or more in advance of the warm weather.

Up in the St. Mary's river, near the Soo, the Mesquite is striving to break through into Lake Huron. The Acacia is also bound for Buffalo, the Tupelo is working around Toledo and the rest are operating in Lake Michigan ports.

Other ice breakers were dispatched by the Nicholson Transit Co. to clear a path for the company's steamship Mataafa, set to sail today for Cleveland with 400 new automobiles.

Meanwhile, at Buffalo, the Erie county board of supervisors is asked to appropriate federal funds for construction of another ice breaker for use at the eastern end of the Great Lakes.

The Coast Guard carefully refrains from making any exact prediction on opening dates for lakes navigation. The U. S. weather bureau, however, gives some indication when these might be.

Emphasizing that his prediction is based solely on weather data and not on operations of ice breakers, the weather bureau gives the following forecast:

Detroit and Lake St. Clair should open around March 29, Sault Ste. Marie about April 18, Marquette April 22, Cleveland March 25, Duluth April 14 and Buffalo April 20. Toledo has been open "all winter. Depending on the weather, opening dates may be 10 days or so either way.

The long, cold winter will probably have the ice staying longer than usual, the weather bureau says.

Last year for instance, Detroit opened March 27—two days earlier than this year's predicted date. The Soo opened a full week earlier and Green Bay 10 days earlier.

This year the ice is still 24 inches thick in many parts of the lakes and the weather bureau reports:

"So far there has been no thawing. In fact some ice still appears to be forming."

It's still winter on the lakes.

Rapid River

Returns From West

Eli Schram returned home Saturday March 6, from an extended visit to the west coast where he visited relatives and many old friends, former residents of Rapid River. About 40 years ago August Schram sold his farm home in town to Napoleon Boudah sr., and Richard Wicklander sr., sold his farm home in Whitefish at the mouth of the river to the late John Darrow. This place is now the Herman Kay farm. Then with their families they moved to Oregon, Eli being the only one of the Schram family to remain here.

When the Garth company closed their operations, many employees of the company also went west. Eli left here early in December, going first to Portland, Oregon where he visited with Mr. and Mrs. Jack Morrison, his sister Emma, at Salem which is about 50 miles from Portland; he visited with Mr. and Mrs. Richard Wicklander jr., his sister Minnie, also with his sister Dorothy and Mr. and Mrs. Jim Callahan, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Callahan, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Callahan, sons of the Jim Callahans.

At Silverton, Oregon, he visited Mr. and Mrs. Carl Knies. Mrs. Knies is the former Ruth Schultz, daughter of the late Joe Schultz. At Silver Creek Falls, living at the State Park where they are caretakers, are Mr. and Mrs. Bryce Dillabough. This park is about 80 miles from Mt. Hood. Mrs. Dillabough is the former Emma Olson, daughter of the late August Olson. There also, he met Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Wicklander at Albany, which is 26 miles from Salem. He visited Mr. and Mrs. Hugo Long, Eli's sister Bertha, also Cyrus Ousley, a former resident of Ensign and Amanda Wicklander and Raymond Schultz. While at Portland he met Mr. and Mrs. Potts, the former Eleanor Hibbard after visiting with all of those he made reservations to go to California. At Mentone he met his brother Walter, whom he had not seen in 40 years. Mentone is about 70 miles from Los Angeles, where he visited with the Joe Laframboise family and John and Marcus Hoffman, brothers of Rev. Theophile Hoffman of Gladstone. After completing his visit in California he returned to Portland.

for another round of visiting before returning home. He then met Mrs. Eric Ohman, sister of Lizze Froberg and Mrs. Ole Norman of Rapid River, also Billy Johnson, a former employee of the Garth company who inquired about his old friend, John Anderson who was a tote teamster for the company. John is retired and lives by himself on what was formerly the Hruska home. In his travels he saw many places of interest that he had heard and read about. Returning home, when he reached St. Paul he found he had a wait between trains from 7 a. m. to 8 p. m. At the station he found waiting for him Rev. Father Sonlard of Stillwater, Minn., a former pastor of St. Charles Catholic church here and Miss Jessie Schiska they had been notified by card from friends in Portland to meet him, after taking Eli to places of interest and to dinner they went to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Bradle, Mrs. Bradle is the former Martha Schiska where he remained to supper and till train time.

Sunday, March 7, a number of relatives and neighbors gathered in the afternoon at the Schram home to hear all about friends and relatives "out west." Among those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Irvin Vanook, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Turan and Oliver, Mr. and Mrs. Martin Proehl and children, Mrs. Martha Proehl, Mrs. Beca Proehl, Rev. and Mrs. T. Hoffman and Janie of Gladstone and Mr. and Mrs. Loyal Sigfrids and Children of Stonington. Mrs. Schram served supper and a delightful afternoon and evening was spent.

Birthday Party

Rapid River, Mich.—Mrs. Bob Roberts, of Whitefish, was pleasantly surprised Thursday evening March 11 when a number of her relatives and friends came to remind her that it was her 27th birthday. Her mother, Mrs. Zeph Rushford brought a lovely birthday cake, white with pink decorations which highlighted the luncheon table. Pot luck lunch was served and she received some lovely gifts. The evening was spent playing Royal Rummy. High score was held by Mrs. Bob Roberts and low by Mrs. Albert Schram. Guests present were: Mrs. Zeph Rushford, Mrs. Stanley Rushford, Mrs. Ed Nelson, Mrs. Waldon Johnson, Mrs. Curtis Christensen, Mrs. Lee Lagerquist and Mrs. Albert Schram.

Paper Drive

The high school students are staging a paper drive this week. The proceeds from the sale of the paper will go toward the purchase of physical education equipment. Any one having paper for the collection may call students to pick it up.

Mrs. Pearl Longberry and two children Sandra and Joel of Gladstone visited Sunday with her sister, Mrs. Bob Hamilton.

Trenary

St. Patrick's Ball
A St. Patrick's Ball was held in the high school gymnasium on March 17th by the students and faculty of the Trenary high school.

Music for dancing was provided by Chet Marrier and his orchestra from Escanaba.

The proceeds of this dance will be used for the purchase of playground equipment.

Lions Club Meeting
The Trenary Lions club held a meeting at the school on Tuesday evening and following the regular meeting, Mr. George Gilbert, Upper Peninsula representative of the department of public instruction, of Gwinn, Mich., gave a talk.

Personals
Mr. and Mrs. Al Phillips have arrived here from Oregon and plan on making their home here. Elmer Hytinen, William and Nestor Orava spent Sunday visiting at Ishpeming.

Mr. and Mrs. Elof Josephson and son Richard of Lake Linden, have spent the past week visiting friends here.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Druckenmiller and baby daughter of Marquette spent the weekend at the Maria Letvela home.

Mr. Frank Laytonen has gone to Covington where he is employed at the Arnold Druckenmiller jr., logging camp.

Mr. and Mrs. Alonzo Phillips expect to move to Milwaukee this week, where Mr. Phillips will be employed.

Mrs. Helen Viton, fourth and fifth grade teacher has been confined to her home with the mumps.

Mrs. Nestor Orava is confined to her home this week with pleurisy in her back.

PULP WASTES ARE UTILIZED

Paper Chemistry Expert Addresses Meeting At Hancock

Hancock, Mich., March 17.—Millions of tons of waste material from the nation's pulp and paper industry are now being used in the manufacture of soaps, fertilizers, tanning agents, linoleum cement, food preservatives, ore and fuel briquettes, and many other products, Dr. Irwin A. Pearl of the Institute of Paper Chemistry, Appleton, Wis., said last night in an address to the Upper Peninsula of the American Chemical Society.

Although complete utilization of lignin and other by-products of the industry is still a long way off, the broad attack upon the problem which is now being pressed by science promises early advances of far-reaching importance to the nation's economy, Dr. Pearl declared.

The tremendous progress already achieved can be attributed indirectly to the magnitude of the industry's waste disposal burden, which constituted such a "constant and costly headache" that huge sums of money have been spent for many years on reclamation research, Dr. Pearl stated.

Noting that 2,000 gallons of dark, syrupy sulfite waste liquor are produced for every ton of sulfite pulp, Dr. Pearl said that investigators found the key to utilization of the solid materials in the waste in certain adhesive and surface-active properties of the liquor.

"These adhesive qualities now are utilized in linoleum cement, core binders, ore and fuel briquettes, dust laying, and soil stabilization," he reported. "Uses depending on surface-active properties are represented by cement and ceramic hardening, dye dispersing, electro-plating, and emulsions for insecticides, road treatment and detergents."

One pulp company in the state of Washington has successfully manufactured ethyl alcohol, the kind used in beverages, from sulfite waste liquor on a commercial scale, Dr. Pearl added.

Approximately one-half of the waste liquor solids is lignin, a major wood constituent, which Dr. Pearl labeled "a potential rival of coal tar or petroleum as a source of synthetic organic chemicals." He described recent research program at the institute which successfully employed vanillin, principal extract of lignin, in the preparation and testing of non-toxic food preservatives, disinfectants, slime-control agents, plasticizers, plastics, pharmaceuticals, and sun screens. Citing the progress of research thus far in this field, Dr. Pearl said: "In addition to the isolation of vanillin from sulfite waste liquor, a number of other valuable products have been obtained. However the complete chemical utilization of lignin is still a long way off."

The meeting was held in the Scott Hotel, Alfred A. Camilli of the Cliffs Dow Chemical Company, chairman of the section, presided.

Gwinn

Gwinn, Mich. — A birthday party in observance of the ninth anniversary of their daughter, Yvonne, was held March 14 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Vedo Heric.

The children played games and were served a birthday lunch. A large cake, decorated in green, was the centerpiece, and green and white shamrocks were at either end of the table. Yvonne received many lovely gifts.

At the party were Marion Fralich, Darlene Saari, Patsy Larson, Judy Wilson, Karen Heric, Patsy DeMars, Bernice DeBello, Vincent Heric, Marlene DeMars and Joyce Blomquist, Mrs. Charles Heric, of Ensign, Mr. and Mrs. Emil VanDeWeghe, Mr. and Mrs. Roland DeMars, Camel DeKamell, Gladstone, Mrs. Viano Saari, Stanley Garron, Gwinn; Mr. and Mrs. John Palkola and son and Emil Verslype.

Mr. and Mrs. Emil VanDeWeghe and Mr. and Mrs. George Pado of Gladstone spent Tuesday visiting at the homes of Mr. and Mrs. Vedo Heric and Mr. and Mrs. John Palkola.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

How to Keep 'Em Down On the Farm

The other day Pete Swanson's nephew, Bud, allowed as how he was fed up with farm and country life... and was going to the city where there was a lot more opportunity and excitement.

Some folks might have tried to stop him. But not Pete. He even advanced Bud carfare for the trip... figured that when he'd had a good look around, he'd come back where he belonged.

And what happened? After seven days of big-town bustle and excitement, Bud was back behind the wheel of a tractor, with color in his cheeks again. And he'd traded the night life of the city for a quiet glass of beer with Dad.

From where I sit, that's how it goes. Try to prevent some one from getting what he thinks he wants—and he'll go on wanting it. But give him his head, and he'll settle for the sensible thing—whether it's country life, or a temperate glass of beer!

GOOD ARTIST IS NOT 'ARTY'

Bob Ruark Interviews Painter Sam Smith Of Albuquerque

BY ROBERT C. RUARK
Albuquerque, N. M. — I have been sort of tickled ever since I met Sam Smith. Sam Smith is a serious artist, and if that isn't the correct name for an artist you ever heard, I will wait until you produce some.

Ruark

Sam is a big lunk of a guy with squinted-up eyes and a GI haircut which makes him look like a cross between a Sioux warrior and a scrubbing brush. Last time I saw he had putty under his fingernails and a big smear of paint on his nose. Not portrait painting paint—house paint.

What I like about Sam is that he is the complete switch on the artist of song and story, starting with his name and working on down to his income, views on art and general personality. Everything that you see in Greenwich Village, in Santa Fe, in Taos, Sam ain't.

He takes regular baths. He is going to be married tomorrow to a pretty girl. He makes plenty of money. He owns a house, not an attic or a Dore hovel or a grim furnished room. He has a big new car and trailer. He does not brood in corners or send his soul scurrying up and down the canyons. He does not marry Indians, for artistic experience or braid his hair. Yet I would say that one day Sam Smith will be one of America's ranking artists, along with Thomas Benton and Grant Wood.

Gets $1,000 Per Portrait
Young Mr. Smith, he's just 30, gets $1,000 a crack for portraits. He sells his little stuff for $300, $400, and up. He will average between $300 and $400 a month in cash income, and he is a great trader. He swapped a painting for his trailer. He has swapped a painting for some expensive carpenter's tools, and for a load of timber for his new house. He has plenty of legal counsel, three lawyers do his bidding for a painting.

Sam never took a formal art lesson in his life, unless you count a two weeks course at the University of New Mexico, a course in modern art which he quit in disgust. He has been painting professionally since he was 14 just by natural feel, the way he builds a house.

Builds Own House
The house is important. Sam had a girl and he wanted to get married and he figured that a westerner ought to have a threshold to carry his bride over. Houses come high, on the hoof, so Sam decided to build one. It is a pretty big house, 60 by 30 feet. But Sam is having very little trouble with it. The fact that it is the first house he ever built bothers him not at all. He says any man with a feeling for line and a little common sense can build a good house, from foundation to the third coat of paint. When he's finished he will have about $14,000 worth of house for a net cost

Newberry Woman Finds It's Never Too Late To Learn

Newberry, Mich.—It's never too late to learn. Take the case of Mrs. Sidney Pardee, 60, who received a camera two years ago as a gift and in a relatively short time has done some outstanding work in the photography field.

A pleasant, conscientious worker, Mrs. Pardee, with her son, Bert, began studying photography through a correspondence course. Like all budding photographers, they started acquiring new equipment, piece by piece, until now they have a contact printer, two enlargers, deep tanks for roll film, and Rolleiord reflex and view cameras with photo flood lights. In their home on Mich. 28-A, between Newberry and Dolarville, they have rigged up a backing of some of his fellow members of the ways and means committee. It has been opposed by police agencies.

The committee has recommended appropriating only $395,467 for license plates next year. This amount will pay for one plate for each car and truck. Phillips said the department of state estimated two plates would cost $732,013.

neat darkroom and studio. Mrs. Pardee specializes in taking pictures of babies and older children, while her son, Bert, likes to photograph grownup folks, landscapes, commercial and industrial subjects. Of late, the mother and son have begun to do considerable free lance work for newspapers.

Mrs. Pardee was born in Elyria, Ohio, and lived in Martin, Ohio, for a time. In 1897, at the age of nine, she moved, in a covered wagon, with her parents to Missaukee county, near Cadillac. They traveled three weeks to reach their destination, having been delayed by snowstorms and mud.

After her marriage, she and her husband farmed for a time. Growing tired of farming, Mr. Pardee accepted work about 29 years ago in a lumber camp near Newberry from Jess Barrett, with whom he remained for 12 years.

Mrs. Pardee has had the satisfaction of seeing six of her seven children gain a good education. One of her children died at the age of 18.

Her daughter, Gladys, taught school for eight years, and then took additional training to become a social service worker. She is now working with the Veterans Administration in Fort Lyon, Colo. Beatrice is an industrial nurse for Swift's in Chicago. Lloyd has a master's degree in forestry and is working in Pontiac. Helen is a graduate nurse, married and living in Garden City, while Clyde is graduating in civil engineering from Michigan State College in the spring. Bert is the only one at home.

Besides being active in photography, Mrs. Pardee is a leader in the Tahquamenon Homemakers group and is an active member of the Business and Professional Woman's club, the Methodist church and its W. S. C. circle.

New Antibiotic Claimed Better Than Streptomycin

Baltimore (SS)—A new anti-germ chemical from a bacillus commonly found in soil and water that appears better than streptomycin and may replace it in treatment of some serious diseases is under trial at the John Hopkins Hospital here.

Results in the first seven patients who got this new remedy were reported by Drs. Emanuel B. Schoenbach, Morton S. Bryer, Elinor A. Bliss and Perrin Long of the John Hopkins School of Medicine at the John Hopkins Medical Society meeting here.

Polymyxin is the name of the new, "uniquely effective" antibiotic. It was discovered less than a year ago by two research teams working independently, Drs. R. G. Benedict and A. F. Langlykke of the U. S. Department of Agriculture's northern regional research laboratory at 10-month dispute between the firm and the CIO United Auto Workers.

Peoria, Ill., and Dr. Harold White and associates at the American Cyanamid Company.

A six-weeks-old baby and his 13-months-old brother who were seriously ill with whooping cough are among the seven patients helped by polymyxin in its first trials. The little baby's temperature had reached 103 degrees Fahrenheit. Within one day after polymyxin was started, his temperature was normal. While the Hopkins doctors are too cautious to say the new remedy saved the baby's life, they and other doctors know that whooping cough in so young an infant is always serious, often fatal.

An 11-months-old baby with a severe burn that became infected with the blue pus-forming germ, Bacillus pyocyaneus, had been given every other kind of treatment without effect. Within six weeks, polymyxin had cleared up the infection so the baby could have skin grafting done to replace the tissue destroyed by the burn.

Pines and related trees do not shed their leaves annually, but each leaf is shed eventually, usually after three to 10 years.

Right Hat Can Minimize Nose

By ALICIA HART
NEA Staff Writer

If your nose is larger than you like, give yourself the profile symmetry that you want by wearing the right kind of hat and hairdo.

This problem of troubled youngsters comes to us so often that we've asked hair stylists and milliners to suggest solutions.

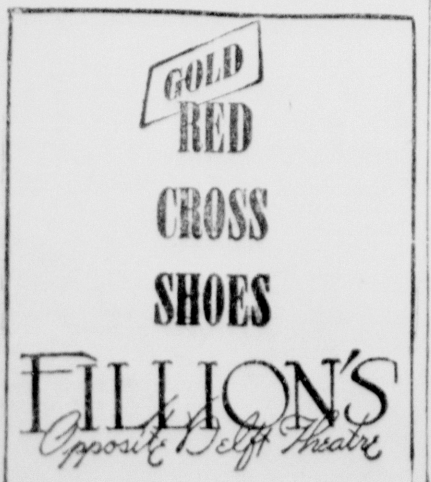

The kind of hat milliners recommend has some detail which runs out over the brow. This may be a beret which swoops forward, a hat with a brim, a jaunty cap with a visor. Or the little "awning" on the hat might be trimming that shoots forward.

The type of hat you shouldn't wear, according to our experts, is an off-the-face type or one with bulk or trimming massed in the back.

The hair-style which has the most minimizing effect on the nose has bangs which may be released from the brow as short curls or a fluffy pouf. Best building-out-device in the back comes from dressing hair page-boy style, but catching ends at the back of the neck with a barrette and ribbon bow.

Shun any hair-do which is starkly profile-revealing. Never brush hair up from your brow. Avoid any up-do for which hair must be massed on top of the head.

To crust intended for apple pie, add about one-half cup grated cheese.

Mrs. H. D. Brackett Re-Elected Woman's Club President

Mrs. Harry D. Brackett was re-elected president of the Escanaba Woman's club at the business session of Wednesday afternoon's meeting held at the Sherman hotel.

Associate officers for the new year are: Mrs. F. W. Schmitt, first vice president; Miss Delight Mashek, second vice president; Miss Josephine Ryan, recording secretary; Mrs. Derlin Remington, corresponding secretary; Mrs. H. H. Bathke, treasurer; Mrs. G. R. Stegath, director for two year term.

Mrs. John J. Walch announced a lecture series by the University of Michigan Extension Service on the subject of "The United States in World Affairs." This series of six lectures is opening this evening and will be given during the next six weeks.

Mrs. Shipman Speaker, of Manistique, speaker of the program arranged by Mrs. William Shepeck, chairman, and Mrs. John A. Lemmer, co-chairman of the meeting, gave an interesting and entertaining talk on her visit to Guatemala, which she referred to as the "cradle of American civilization," as revealed by excavations showing life and living there hundreds of years before the discovery of America by Columbus.

She gave glowing descriptions of the natural beauties of Guatemala City, the volcanoes, flowers, vines and trees, contrasting the big, clean, modern city with the old-fashioned note of oxen-drawn carts, herds of goats and country people going to market. Each community has its own distinctive costume, she said, and the market place is the center of activities, marked by sociability and good-natured bickering, as the Guatemalans dearly love a bargain.

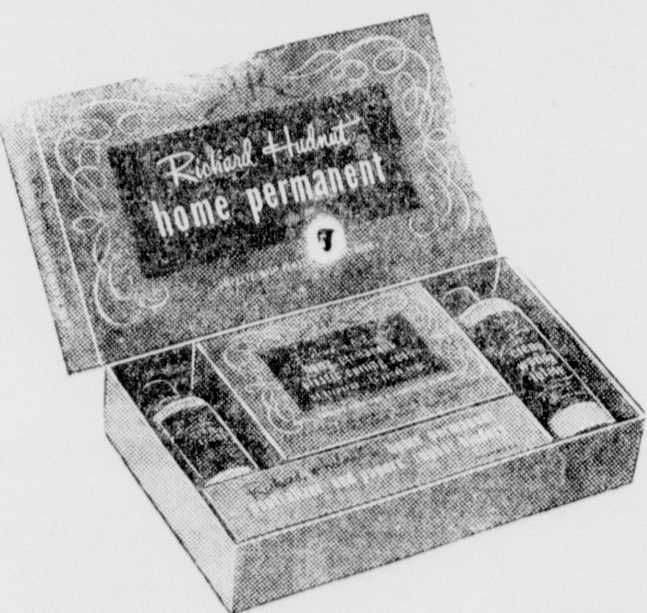

She spoke of the radiant health of the women, although they work very hard and have few modern conveniences and she stressed the happiness and contentment on every hand, in spite of what would be considered abject poverty in this country. There is no crime in Guatemala, she said. No one kills or steals and there are no locks on the doors.

Musical Numbers
Mrs. Shipman ended on a note of concern for the pent up power of the Indian of Guatemala, which she compared to a volcano, should it be directed to communistic channels. "Though there seemed to be everywhere, a terror of communism," she said, "nothing is really known about what is happening in Guatemala."

An excellent musical program at the meeting included violin solos, "Melody in F," Rubenstein, and "Danny Boy," Weatherly, played by Mary Groos, accompanied by Eunice Holmes; a piano solo, Grieg's Concerto in A Minor, by Miss Holmes; and two vocal solos, "My Johann," Edward Greig, and "Lying Little Daisy," John Wendell Scott, by Miss Jessie Wick.

Conference At Houghton Seeks Appropriation From State

Houghton, Mich., — Expenditures by the State of Michigan for forest products research are extremely small in comparison with the size of the job to be done, it was stated by Abbot Fox, chairman of Michigan's Forest Products Research Advisory Committee, at a meeting of the committee held at the Michigan College of Mining and Technology in Houghton on March 12. Mr. Fox's statement was based on information revealed at a national meeting of government agencies and representatives of the woods products industries held recently at Madison.

Other states and the wood industries are making large investments in research and development in the forest products field, according to Mr. Fox, and thus far the State of Michigan is lagging behind. Work presently being done in the forest products research program at the Michigan College of Mining and Technology has proven to be of considerable value to the industries of the state, concluded Mr. Fox, and it is of paramount importance that work be continued and expanded.

To implement the Fox recommendation, Juel Lee, manager of the Birds-Eye Veneer company, Escanaba, offered the following resolution: "It is urgently recommended that the forest products research program at the Michigan College of Mining and Technology be continued for the 1948-49 fiscal year under an appropriation of at least $40,000, the amount appropriated for the present year. This committee believes that the work being carried on under the present appropriation is of great value to the State of Michigan and to the wood-using industries."

Seconded by Gordon Connor, president of the Timber Producers Association, and passed unanimously, the resolution will be presented to the governor, the director of the budget, and the legislature.

New Legislation Needed To Recall War II Veterans

Washington, D. C., (P) — The possibility that selective service might be revived stirred speculation regarding the legal status of the draft.

The Army's own experts take the position that new legislation would be required to recall to duty veterans of the last war who served under the draft.

Army authorities were represented as believing the mere presence of a draft law would serve to stimulate volunteer recruiting. The old law is being studied meanwhile.

A new draft law, it was said, would not result in calling back of World War II veterans in view of the potential younger manpower available since the war's end.

In response to "inquiries," the Army issued this memorandum:

"The judge advocate general's department is studying the exact legal status of the war (World War II) to clarify powers granted under certain emergency legislation.

"It was pointed out that only the President has the power to call the National Guard to federal duty for service within the continental United States. Congressional action is required to permit service by National Guard units outside the United States.

"It is the view of personnel and legal officials in the Army that new legislation would be required to recall to duty veterans of World War II who served under the selective service act.

"Powers to call members of the officers reserve corps to active duty against their will expired last year. It was emphasized that the army is not now calling and has not called members of the organized reserve to active duty against their will."

OPEN AIR COURTS

Tokyo, Japan, (P) — Tokyo police setup open air courts on busy downtown streets Tuesday, to slap instant fines on jaywalkers, two-on-a-bike riders, reckless drivers and speeders. Fines ranged up to 3,000 yen ($60). A few offenders were taken to jail.

Parties

Mrs. Walter Stellwagen entertained her pinocle club at her home Thursday evening at a 7 o'clock supper. In play, Mrs. Ronald Boudreau received first prize, Mrs. Robert Lester sr., second, Mrs. Edward Lamotte, double pinocle, and Mrs. Fred Gauthier, consolation. Mrs. Louis Farley received the guest prize.

The Birthday club met with Mr. and Mrs. Edward Lamotte Sunday evening to enjoy their annual St. Patrick party and also to celebrate the host's birthday. Card games were played with Mrs. Herbert Sill and Walter Stellwagen winners. A delicious lunch was enjoyed at a beautifully appointed table, and the celebrant received a gift.

Mass, Bessemer Win In State Cage Tourney; Ontonagon Ousted

AT MANISTIQUE TONIGHT — Here they are again The All-American Red Heads of national basketball fame, the girls who play the game the way the boys do and who win approximately 90 per cent of their games playing it that way. In fact, early this week, the Red Heads nipped the Stambaugh Bakers of the Northern Wisconsin Michigan Basketball league, 36-35, and the local partisans there claim it wasn't entirely chivalry. At any rate, the girls are here and they'll play the Manistique Merchants at the Manistique high school gym at 8:30 tonight. The game will be preceded by a preliminary tilt. Some of the stars are Danny Daniels, Ruth Haines, Toby McGee Turner, Pauline Smedley, Virginia Posey and Beth Bohannon. They are experts all! The Manistique city band will play at tonight's game in Manistique.

Rockets Whip Kingsley, 77-34; Bessemer Bowls Over Rogers City, 43-31

By The Associated Press

Upper Peninsula high school basketball champions made a big dent in downstate cage circles in state high school tournament quarterfinal play last night as Mass became the sensation of the meet by walloping Kingsley, 77-34, in Class D and Bessemer mowed down Rogers City, 43-31, in Class B.

Hermansville Sends Its U. P. Champions To See State Meet

Hermansville, March 18 — A generous warm-hearted Hermansville citizenry, determined to show their appreciation of the fine season's record compiled by the local high school basketball team, opened their purse strings and donated sufficient funds to send the boys to the state basketball finals and semifinals Friday and Saturday in Lansing.

The boys will leave Hermansville in time to make the 6 a. m. ferry at St. Ignace Friday. The trip will be made by car. Cars driven by Harold Allen and Coach Kleimola will take the team to Lansing.

The following boys will make the trip: Leno Pieropon, Hugh Allen, George Furlick, Bill Sutherland, Charles Koehn, James Doran, Ted Peterson, Dick Whitens, Charles Lombard, James Farley and Victor Pochato. The group expects to use every minute in Lansing to the best possible advantage. Michigan State college and the Capitol are two "musts" on the schedule. The team will leave Lansing Sunday for the return trip home.

Marc Olson Captain Of Tech Puck Squad

Houghton, March 18 — Marc Olson, youngest of the three hockey-playing Michigan Tech Olsons, was elected captain of the 1948-49 Huskie squad recently. He also was awarded the title of "most valuable player" by his teammates.

Marc finished the season with 13 goals and 19 assists for a total of 32 points, only one point behind brother Ted who is the Huskies' high scorer for the year. Marc is a native of Marquette, where he attended John D. Pierce high school and played both intermediate and senior hockey before he came to Michigan Tech.

He served a year in the army and returned to the college in 1947 as a sophomore in electrical engineering. Marc, like his two brothers, has two more years to play hockey at the college.

City Ping Pong Meet Next Monday, Tuesday

The annual Escanaba ping pong tournament sponsored by the city recreation department will be held at the Youth Center Club 314 Monday and Tuesday evening. Trophies will be awarded in men's singles, women's singles, junior boys and girls singles and intermediate boys and girls singles.

Entries may be turned in at the Youth Center. Players must sign up for the tournament no later than 7:30 p. m., and all contestants are asked to be there promptly at 7:15.

An entry fee of 25 cents per person will be charged to go toward defraying incidental expenses. Awards will be given to the first, second and third place winners in each class.

The divisions of play are men's senior, 18 and over; women's senior, 18 and over; boys' intermediate, 16 and 17; girls' intermediate, 16 and 17; boys' junior, 14 and 15; girls' junior, 14 and 15.

In addition, boys and girls doubles and mixed doubles classes will be provided. There is no age limit for these classes.

Indees, Bridges Settle Basketball Title Here Tonight

The Independents and Bridges Construction fives will battle it out for the National league championship of the Escanaba Basketball association in the feature game at the junior high school gym at 9 tonight.

Two other tilts will ring the curtain down on the 1947-48 city basketball league season. Cloverland college and Dagenais Grocers will tangle at 7, and the Liberty Clowns will oppose Gladstone Lions at 8. Dagenais is a slight favorite over Cloverland. The Clowns and Lions will be fighting to stay out of the American league cellar.

The city basketball tournament will be held the week of April 5.

New York Rangers Win Stanley Cup Playoffs Berth

(By The Associated Press)

New York's long suffering hockey fans are in a gala mood today for the New York Rangers, after a six year lapse, once again have qualified for a National Hockey League Stanley Cup playoff berth.

The Rangers clinched fourth place and the last playoff berth by beating the tail-end Blackhawks in Chicago, 5-2 last night. The win boosted their point total to 55; six more than the fifth place Montreal Canadiens who have two games left to play.

Meanwhile, the Detroit Red Wings pulled to within a point of the first place Toronto Maple Leafs by battling Boston Bruins to a 0-0 tie in Boston.

The Wings and Leafs close out their regular season by meeting in a home and home series Saturday and Sunday.

The Rangers, who were minus the service of regulars Neil Colville, Frankie Eddolls and Phil Watson due to injuries, jumped into the lead in the first period on Eddie Kolan's goal and were never headed.

Standings:

Toronto	20	15	12	73	122
Detroit	20	16	12	72	122
Boston	20	14	12	57	122
New York	21	15	10	55	122
Montreal	19	18	11	40	127
Chicago	19	23	6	44	127

U. S. College Puck Meet Opens Tonight

Colorado Springs, Colo., March 18 (AP) — A National Hockey championship is just two games away for one of the four college teams shaking out their curved sticks in the Broadmoor Ice Palace, starting tonight.

The first puck-pasting tournament ever held by the National Collegiate Athletic Association has attached a quartet of clubs which during the season won 71 games while losing 15 and tying one.

They won their way into this tournament either in elimination tests or because they were the best in their sections.

The opener at 8:15 (MST) tonight turns loose the powerful Dartmouth Indians against the host team, the Colorado College Tigers. Tomorrow night the Michigan Wolverines will take over against the Boston College Eagles.

NAVY DARKHORSE
Denver, March 18 (AP) — One, lone, Navy Blue darkhorse carries the last hopes for a really major upset into the quarter finals of the National AAU Basketball tournament here tonight.

Seven of the eight seeded teams moved into the round of eight yesterday with only two having to get up any sweat doing it. Lone outsiders remaining were the Navy Blues from Annapolis, Md., a collection of former Naval Academy and service stars who looked pretty dangerous while racing through Portland, Ore., (Semler Yanks) 74-46. Portland earlier had inflicted the only casualty in the seeded ranks by beating Milwaukee.

High Pin Mark
Herman Undertakers of St. Louis held an all-time record for high team total in bowling, with 3797 pins tallied during competition in the 1937 regular season.

One Rookie Wonder In Every Camp

By Hugh Fullerton, Jr.
New York, March 18 (AP) — There's at least one in every baseball camp . . . that is, a rookie "wonder" who won't be ready for a year or two . . . In touring the southland you hear more about kids like John Groth, Walt Drope, Stan Dopata, Dick Manville and Johnny Bucha.

Hank the Second
Drope, a big boy from the University of Connecticut, was on the draft lists of both pro football leagues. He chose baseball ball leagues. Hhe chose baseball and isn't even on the Boston Red Sox roster . . . Still he's the guy they'll point out in the Boston camp and ask: "Doesn't he look just like Hank Greenberg?" . . . There is a remarkable resemblance in the way Walt carries his head and shoulders—and he appears to be able to slug the ball a country mile, too . . . This year Joe McCarty apparently is going along with Stan Spence as his first baseman . . . but in another year or two, if Drope learns to handle his feet around first base—

Johnny on the Spot
In the Detroit Tigers camp, everything else comes almost to a halt when young Groth steps up to the plate. The batting practice pitcher glances down at the screen in front of him, for Groth has the habit of slashing murders out drives right through the box.

He's only 21, a strong, well-built youngster and they can't fault him on anything but experience. He has had only a year of pro experience and Steve O'Neill figures he'll need one more in the minors—"then he'll be back to stay a long time."

Lopata went south as a member of the Phillies' "minor league" squad, but Manager Ben Chapman keeps muttering about the possibility that he'll beat out all three veterans. Ben won't keep him unless he can be the first-stringer, so you can tab him for triple-A ball this year . . . The summe goes for Bucha, who came up from Omaha to the Cardinals with a .361 batting average . . . Incidentally, they're about the only young catchers coming along. That might be a good spot for a kid to try.

Bowler Bud Bomar Out for Six Months

Detroit, March 18 (AP) — Buddy Bomar, captain of the world champion Kathryn Bowling team of Chicago, was suspended for six months and fined $500 last night by the Bowling Proprietors Association of America.

Bomar had been charged with violating the contract of a match in which his squad was defending its title against Detroit's E. & B. team, former world title holders.

The Detroit team, refusing to appear last Saturday for the second blocks of the title match, accused the Chicago pin star of working on the alleys on which his quintet was to roll.

Ed MacCauley Paces St. Louis Five To Easy National Win

New York, March 18 (AP) — There wasn't any doubt today about the class of the St. Louis university basketball team, and its string-bean center, All-America Ed MacCauley.

The Billikens from the banks of the Mississippi put on a collective show last night to overwhelm New York university, 65-52, in the finale of the National Invitation tournament at Madison Square Garden. All the Bills displayed superb teamwork, but MacCauley was outstanding.

Six-foot-eight Ed, who looks as if he might snap in half at any moment, came up with a brilliant individual performance as the Bills gained a berth in the Olympic games trials.

MacCauley poured in 24 points before he got tired shooting at the net and was content to feed his mates for the buckets that all but ran the NYU Violets purple-faced. He was unanimously voted the tournament's most valuable player.

The preliminary consolation game, won by Western Kentucky, 61-59, after a rough overtime tussle with DePaul, provided most of the evening's thrills.

Tiger Trout, Trucks Ready to Go Limit

Lakeland, Fla., March 18 (AP) — Two strong-arm Detroit Tiger righthanders—Paul (Dizzy) Trout and Virgil Trucks—were judged fit and ready today for route-giving assignments next time out in Florida exhibition games.

Trout, bidding for a return to the form that twice carried him inside the charmed circle of 20-game winners, blanked the St. Louis Cardinals on four scattered hits for six innings yesterday as the Tigers won 6 to 2.

The win ended a three-game losing streak for the Bengals. Trout's runless performance came a day after Trucks pitched shutout ball against the Boston Braves for eight innings.

The two fastballers won only 10 games each for the second place Tigers last year but appear headed for better days this season.

Spartan Trackmen Enter Two Meets

East Lansing, March 18 (AP) — Michigan State college will send a five-man squad to compete in two track events over the weekend.

Press of examinations prevents a larger delegation from going to the Knights of Columbus meet at the Cleveland Friday night and the Chicago relay at Chicago Saturday.

Track Coach Karl A. Schlade-man will depend on his two hurdles stars, Horace Smith of Jackson and Fred Johnson of Grand Rapids, to lead the races over the sticks. Johnson also will compete in several dash events.

Bill Mack will run in the mile. Jack Danetti will try for the 880-yard run, and Warren Duetzel will be the Spartan entry in the two-mile run.

Booster Bowler Hits 1,876 in ABC

Detroit, March 18 (AP) — Booster teams monopolizing the American Bowling Congress tournament this week have produced at least one outstanding pinsman — Richard Bishop of Parma, Ohio.

Bishop marked up a 1,876 total in all-events yesterday to take third in that division. The doubles score of 1,223 he turned in with his partner, Milan Kaufmann, was good enough for fifth place in that division.

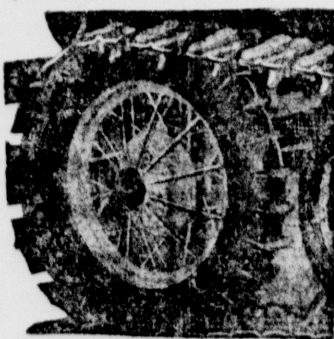

In singles, too, Bishop just missed ranking with the leaders. His score of 643—fashioned on games of 224, 216 and 203—was but 12 pins short of tenth place.

To the singles score he added a 639 doubles mark and 594 in team rolling to make up the surprising all-events total.

CHANCES FAIR FOR APPROVAL OF UMT PLAN

during the coming year—risks perhaps greater than any this country has been called upon to assume," he declared grimly. "But they are not risks of our own making and we cannot make the danger vanish by pretending that it does not exist."

"We must be prepared to meet that danger with sober self-restraint and calm and judicious action if we are to be successful in our leadership for peace."

Mr. Truman used different words before Congress:

"We must be prepared to pay the price of peace, or assuredly we shall pay the price of war."

In that address, the president made only minor changes as he went along.

But in talking to the St. Patrick's Day dinner in New York he made a major text departure when he lashed out by name at Henry Wallace, the third party presidential candidate.

After asserting that "we must beware of those who are devoting themselves to sowing the seeds of disunity among our people," the chief executive declared:

"I do not want and I will not accept the political support of Henry Wallace and his Communists."

Wallace Will Reply

"If joining them or permitting them to join me is the price of victory, I recommend defeat. These are days of high prices for everything. But any price for Wallace and his Communists is too much for me to pay."

There was no immediate reply from Wallace, who has scheduled a radio rejoinder to Mr. Truman's speech to Congress for 10:45 p. m. (EST-ABC) tonight. But earlier in the day, the former vice president and ousted Truman cabinet member had termed the address to Congress "a shameful call for world remobilization, a complete admission of failure of the Truman doctrine and a call for an American police state."

Congressional leaders in both major political camps agreed on one thing—they want to do something to stop the spread of Communism across not only Europe but the world.

But there the agreement stopped.

Chairman Vandenberg (R-Mich) of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee said that if this country does not now have the essentials of national armed security "we must provide them by the most available immediate means."

Vandenberg was said to view with some favor the president's request for a limited military draft. But he apparently is less inclined toward Universal Military Training.

Senator Taft of Ohio, a GOP presidential candidate, indicated he may fight the draft, as well as the UMT proposal which he long has opposed.

Taft said he regretted that Mr. Truman had not pressed for "real unification of the armed forces" and for the world's biggest air force.

The air force idea found wide support. Senators Brewster (R-Me), Russell (D-Ga), Edwin C. Johnson (D-Colo), McCarran (D-Nev), Umstead (D-NC) and Malone (R-Nev) all plugged for it.

In the House it was offered as a big part of the answer to military preparedness by Rep. Merrow (R-NH), Harvey (R-Ind), and Mitchell (R-Iud).

In this connection Brewster told a reporter the president made "a significant omission."

"The Russians have no concept of a navy, being a great land mass," Brewster said. "And they have no concern about an invasion, having resisted invasions for centuries. Air power is the only thing they understand—that has been demonstrated."

But Chairman Gurney (R-SD) of the Senate Armed Services Committee said air power alone cannot guard bases and the shores of a continent. He personally is sympathetic to the draft proposal, he told reporters.

Secretary of State Marshall took the same position before the committee yesterday.

He testified that a "temporary application of Selective Service is necessary to end the dwindling strength of the armed forces."

Secretary of Defense Forrester faced questioning by the committee today on why it is necessary to have both UMT and the draft.

That question proved difficult for many lawmakers.

Mine Cavein Buries House, 25 Feet Deep

Pottsville, Pa., March 18 (AP)—Seventy-year-old Jack Egan is faced with a housing problem today—what to do with a house 25 feet underground.

Egan, a bachelor, returned home yesterday after visiting friends overnight—only to find that his one-room house and 75 feet of railroad track a half mile away had been swallowed up in cave-ins on mine-Honeycombed Broad Mountain, 13 miles west of Pottsville.

Where Egan's house had been, he found only a gaping hole. The thaw-softened earth had completely covered the house.

Another cave-in swept away 75 feet of Reading railroad track a half mile away. Trainman Robert R. Dando reported a train hauling 12 empty freight cars passed over the section of track shortly before the cave-in.
